

Demara Shy Of Press Cameras

Ducking and doubling, like a bulky fox pursued by hounds, Ferdinand Demara, who posed successfully as a doctor and took in the navy's experts, tried to dodge newspapermen Wednesday. He got help of a sort from the navy which had just released him. The navy's staff car which took Demara to the immigration offices drew pursuers away from the front door, then made a dash to elude photographers. A hat covering his face, Demara fumbled at the door, and in spite of the shield afforded by Lieut. W. Pemberton, a Times cameraman caught him in flight. Demara face an immigration inquiry on the manner of his entry into Canada more than a year ago. (Times photo by Strickland.)

Navy's Imposter Faces Inquiry By Immigration Officials Here

Immigration authorities will have a decision on Ferdinand Demara, Jr., within four days.

John Dorman, immigration inspector, said today a preliminary inquiry has been held, but that the full-fledged session on the bizarre case of the pseudo-surgeon who won acclaim for his operating table feats in the Korean war zone will be held later.

"A good many statements will have to be confirmed," he said. "There will be a little delay until that is done."

It is believed the only aspect of the case to be considered will be the legality of Demara's entry into Canada.

According to evidence Demara joined the R.C.N. with documents belonging to Dr. Joseph Cyr of Grand Falls, N.B., and served as "Surgeon-Lieut. Cyr" aboard H.M.C.S. Cayuga.

Demara was not "dismissed" from the navy. He faced no court martial. He was "released" for misconduct, in naval parlance, "for fraudulent entry."

In such a case the release does not carry the stigma of "dismissal with disgrace" which, in serious crimes, is affixed to discharge papers.

Meanwhile, Demara is being detained at the Immigration Department office at the Outer Wharf. His request for "no interviews or photographs" is being respected rigorously.

He was visited for 20 minutes today by Lieut. Wilfred Pemberton, R.C.N. lieutenant-at-arms, or "chief of police."

Dorman said a three-man board, with himself as chairman, will render the decision on Demara.

"It will be final as far as the Immigration Department is concerned," he said, "but naturally Demara will have the right of appeal to the Minister of Justice like anyone else in the same circumstances."

The Demara episode opened a good-natured war between naval authorities and the press. Demara was whisked into Naden Barracks some days ago, successfully dodging reporters and photographers.

Wednesday, when newsmen heard he would be dismissed from the barracks in the afternoon, they lurked in numbers at both gates to the establishment to catch sight of the controversial "doctor."

When he turned up at the immigration office in the late afternoon reporters were sure there had been "hanky-panky" used to get him out of naval barracks unseen, but navy men said he was driven through a gate, in the same staff car that dropped him at the office.

The jog-trot existence of the immigration office which has been conducting its business without fanfare for some years, has suddenly been shaken up.

"We are getting telephone calls every few minutes from all across Canada, and right up to midnight," the inspector said today. "The pressure is terrific."

SHOW AIDS SOLARIUM

Comedy Classic Draws People In Public Eye

Tickets for the Dec. 2 premiere of "The Lavender Hill Mob" at the Odeon Theatre went on sale this afternoon.

Solarium Junior League is handling distribution of 1,245 general-admission and 230 loge seats. Total proceeds of the Sunday night show, which starts at 9, are for the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children.

The Odeon chain has been donating the picture all across Canada for similar premieres, co-ordinated with regional charities. In Vancouver Sunday night it launched the "March of Dimes" campaign.

The Victoria Daily Times is sponsoring the performance, collaborating with the Solarium, the theatre, and CKDA to make the first Vancouver Island screening of the record-breaking comedy a gala event.

Invitations have gone out to the Lieutenant-Governor, the premier, members of cabinet and legislature, the mayor and aldermen and high-ranking officials of the three services. Mme. Speaker Nancy Hodges and Mr. Speaker accepted their invitation today.

Tickets, which must be purchased in advance, are on sale at the Odeon Theatre, at the Times' uptown and downtown offices, and from individual members of the Solarium Junior League.

A sell-out is anticipated. The new J. Arthur Rank picture, which stars Alec Guinness, has been praised by leading critics as "the kind of comedy only the British can make."

Th' Allied an' Russian cease-fire proposals are gettin' so alike there soon won't be anythin' t' quarrel about.

Th' Reds are tryin' t' break down family ties in China, but they don't mind usin' 'em t' extort ransom money from relatives.

So we're gonna control both quality an' quantity in th' City Council.

ODORIFEROUS FISH HAVE POSTMASTER AT DUNCAN SEEKING MR. BARNSTEAD

Special to The Times
DUNCAN, Nov. 22.—Adrian Percival Barnstead, who claims to be a visitor to Duncan area from England and whose letters to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip aroused the ire of many citizens of Victoria and elsewhere, has been badly "wanted" by J. R. Corney, Duncan postmaster and the post office officials.

Last week a strong stench was noticed in the post office, and it became gradually worse. It was decided to do something about it. At last the source of the evil smell was located. It came from a box addressed to the same Adrian Percival Barnstead. All efforts to locate him failed and it became necessary to open the box.

In the box were found three badly damaged and decomposed fish and a letter berating the consignee for his criticism of Canadian accents, manners and customs. The fish were destroyed, but the letter was held and awaits claim by Mr. Barnstead.

Mr. Barnstead's letter appeared in The Times of Nov. 6, expressed pleasure the Princess was not officially greeted by "hard to understand" Canadian accents, and that the children had been properly kept in the background.

St. Laurent May Clarify Statement Over Airfields

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (BUP).—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was expected to clear up in Parliament today a surprise announcement by Defense Minister Brooke Claxton that Canada intended to make vast military expenditures in Europe.

The government urgently requested Claxton Wednesday night to clarify his statement to 50 news correspondents in Rotterdam that this country could spend $100,000,000 on airfields in Europe under the Atlantic treaty.

The defense minister, now en route to Rome for the next meeting of NATO, also said Canada would build permanent barracks in the Hanover area of Germany, and that more Second World War military equipment would be sent to NATO countries.

DREW CRITICAL

The government's urgent order to Claxton to explain his announcement was sent after opposition leader George Drew bitterly criticized the defense minister for his action. Drew said Claxton should not have announced government policy to a press conference before the House of Commons had been informed.

Prime Minister St. Laurent denied that the government had decided on the expenditures announced by Claxton. He said, however, he could not discuss Claxton's statement until he had learned what the minister had actually said at the press conference.

It was expected that Mr. St. Laurent would make a statement to Parliament at the opening of the House session today if he had received a reply from Claxton by that time.

The Prime Minister doubted that Claxton had been correctly reported at the press conference.

Korea Peace Talks Near Agreement

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 22 (AP).—Truce negotiators today near agreement on a plan which could open the way for an end of fighting in Korea by Christmas.

Only one point remained to be settled in the buffer-zone dispute. Delegates were so close together they called a Friday meeting of staff officers to start drawing the line of battle contact across Korea.

This would become the centre of a buffer zone, 2½ miles wide, if an armistice is signed within 30 days.

If the remaining dispute on a cease-fire line is ironed out, three major hurdles would still stand in the way of making it effective and signing a truce by Christmas: (1) Terms for enforcing the armistice, (2) Exchange of prisoners, and (3) Recommendations to governments on withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 22 (AP).—Two Communist battalions attacking through barbed wire and a hail of artillery fire early today overran an advance Allied position in western Korea.

As American troops along most of the rain-swept battlefield observed Thanksgiving dinner with turkey and trimmings, the Reds hit the central sector of the western front with a series of hard jabs.

The attacks centred west of Chorwon, United States Eighth Army headquarters said.

One Allied unit was reported surrounded during the night. But it beat back the attacking Reds and then regained its advance position.

In the same sector, elements of a Red regiment hit two U.N. positions, but the attack was beaten off.

"No matter what majority the government may command, it is the duty of the government to report to the people's representatives when such large sums of money are being spent and when new policies are being evolved."

B.C. POPULATION ZOOMS 40 PER CENT

Vancouver Island Census Shows 41% Rise As Numbers Hike From 150,407 To 213,013

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—British Columbia's population has increased to 1,153,059 from 817,861 in the last 10 years, according to a preliminary report on the decennial census made public today.

Egypt Demands U.N. Outlaw Atomic Bomb

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP).—Egypt called today for immediate prohibition of the atomic bomb as the first step to world disarmament. She was the first non-Communist country to support the Russian stand on arms reduction before the United Nations' General Assembly's political committee.

Adly Andros, Ambassador to Greece, said Egypt believes the atomic weapon should be barred just as poison gas has been outlawed.

The western Big Three proposals for disarmament by stages, Andros declared, seem to have been carefully thought out. But his country did not like their delaying control of atomic weapons until the last step.

Andros spoke in advance of the British Minister of State, Selwyn Lloyd (after 9 a.m. E.S.T.).

The Egyptian viewpoint today appeared to be a sharp change in that country's stand. As a member of the Security Council until two years ago, Egypt's representative on the council's Atomic Energy Commission had favored the Western majority position on atomic control.

This stand called for future international control of atomic energy. But since her recent difficulties with Britain over the Suez Canal and the Sudan, Egypt in the U.N. has been openly critical of the West, although Andros today disclaimed that his country is taking sides with Russia.

"We don't want a pax Americana, we don't want a pax Britannica, we don't want a pax Sovietica," the Egyptian delegate said. "All we want is peace—short, clear and neat."

British Troops Board Carrier For Mid-East

PORTSMOUTH, England, Nov. 22 (AP).—Two thousand British troops today boarded the aircraft carrier Illustrious for service in the Middle East.

The war office said the troops probably will be assigned to the Suez Canal zone, where serious clashes have occurred between Britons and Egyptians.

The carrier will sail tomorrow. The war office also announced the 1st battalion of the Scots Guards is to be flown to the Middle East between Nov. 24 and Dec. 1.

Police Seeking Evidence Of Traffic In Evil Drug

City police are investigating repeated reports of the use of marijuana among Victoria school pupils.

Although the R.C.M.P. anti-narcotics squad carried out a thorough investigation here only six weeks ago and could find no evidence of marijuana smoking, rumors of the use of the drug persist.

Most recent rumors of the narcotic traffic have triggered a city police investigation, independent of the R.C.M.P.

It is understood neighbor municipalities have conducted inquiries along the same lines.

An unidentified person has appealed to the Victoria Times to try to disclose if the story of marijuana smoking were true.

REPORTS REACH CHIEF

Chief of Police John Blackstock today said reports and rumors had reached him some time ago. He said he had put investigators on the case but thus far they had not been able to uncover anything to prove a basis for fears.

"Investigations are continuing," Chief Blackstock said.

Superintendent C. W. Harvison of the R.C.M.P. reported that his department had received a similar report about six weeks ago. "We followed up on it but were unable to find anything to substantiate the story," the superintendent said.

"I've got lots of time on my hands these days," said Trustee Walter Jeune (retired). "and if I had heard of any such thing happening in our schools I'd devote all my time to getting to the bottom of it."

Members of the Greater Victoria School Board say they never heard of traffic in marijuana in local schools.

"It has happened elsewhere on the continent and it wouldn't surprise me if it was happening here right under our noses," said Esquimalt Trustee Richard D. Reeve.

WANTS STIFF PENALTY

"I would like to see legislation brought in to levy a death sentence against anyone found peddling this type of cigarette and dope generally."

"I think such a penalty would go a long way toward reducing the traffic or stopping it altogether," he said.

"There are certainly no visible signs of such a weed being used by our pupils here," said Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College.

"There is no evidence of marijuana being smoked by our pupils... but if such a story is true we would like to get to the bottom of it," said Tom L. Christie, secretary of the school board.

Mild Weather As Ontarians Go To Polls

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (CP).—Voting began slowly today in Ontario elected its 24th legislature.

In most parts of the province the sky was cloudy and it was mild, but cold weather was reported north of Lake Superior. Some workers or snow flurries were expected before nightfall.

Most Ontario towns said the balloting pace was slow after polling stations opened at 8 a.m.—an hour later in two northwestern ridings. Voting ended at 7 p.m. and the job of counting perhaps 2,000,000 ballots begins.

Voters were deciding whether Premier Leslie Frost's Progressive Conservative party is to continue governing Canada's most populous province.

YOGI CAN SWALLOW A SHEET

Swami Describes Strange Therapy

Note: This is another in a series of articles by Times reporter Humphrey Davy on a course in Yoga he is taking with a group of Victoria men and women from a young Hindu teacher, Swami Shivanand, who recently arrived in the city. Final in the series will be published Friday.

By HUMPHREY DAVY
Have you ever heard of an Oesophageal?

It is a rubber tube which physicians push down a patient's throat to the stomach to find out if there is any trouble brewing in the digestive organ.

This is performed only with great difficulty as the majority of people today don't seem to be able to swallow anything larger than a pea.

Now, can you visualize a person taking a piece of cloth 40 feet long and eight inches wide and shoving that down his throat until it disappears? This is followed up with an exercise which will cause the piece of cloth to wash his insides. Then it is pulled out.

That is what Swami, our teacher of Yoga, at the Sikh Temple, told us he could do. I believe him.

But so that no one can accuse me of believing things blindly, I consulted a scientific paper on observations made on people who practise Yoga. The exercise is listed in black and white.

Now don't get me wrong. We are not being asked to swallow a piece of cloth. I have enough difficulty swallowing an aspirin, let alone a bed-sheet.

Swami was just telling us what some people who practise Yoga can do. He told us of other hygienic exercises, which would surprise physicians.

The complete Yoga course, Swami explained, consists of 188 exercises. But the average person is not expected to do them all. They are only for people who want to devote their entire life to the philosophy.

Churchill Leaves U.K. Dec. 29

LONDON, Nov. 22 (Reuters).—Prime Minister Churchill will leave Dec. 29 on his trip to North America where he will visit Washington and Ottawa, it was announced tonight.

He will take with him three key cabinet ministers—Anthony Eden, foreign secretary; Lord Ismay, commonwealth relations secretary; and Lord Cherwell, his atomic expert.

The announcement did not indicate how long Churchill expects to remain in Washington before leaving for Ottawa for his meeting with Prime Minister St. Laurent.

LAST FOR WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (Reuters).—The Churchill-Truman talks will begin in Washington Jan. 3, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

While the full agenda has not yet been drawn up, it was stated here that the talks at the White House will last at least for a week and in scope will constitute the most important Anglo-American conference since the end of the Second World War in 1945.

A new topic—control of American air bases in Britain—appears likely to take a priority place on the agenda.

Usually well-informed sources here say Churchill wants an agreement which would give Britain much more control than she has over the U.S. bases on the grounds that she could be drawn into a war against her wishes as the result of a sudden clash between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Authorities here point out that under the existing unwritten agreement with Britain, the U.S. government alone could decide if and when bombs—flowed from British bases—would be used at the bottom of it," said Tom L. Christie, secretary of the school board.

Churchill will meet Canadian government leaders in Ottawa after his visit to Washington. Results of discussions here may provide the basis for some of the talks there.

Catholics Plan B.C. University

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP).—Roman Catholics may establish a university in British Columbia.

A. H. J. Swensky, a Vancouver solicitor, today gave notice that application will be made to the legislature for incorporation. It will be called Holy Rosary.

Authority is asked to provide instruction in and confer degrees in all branches of the "liberal arts and sciences, and in all useful branches of learning."

We, who are taking the course, are only asked to do a simple set of exercises (not so simple for the starter) and to choose a few others which will improve our general health. For instance if a person is inclined to gain too much weight, he chooses an exercise which will slim him down.

The one I find difficult at present is standing on my head. The group of us taking the Yoga course from Swami are not treating it lightly. We're convinced that Yoga, practised seriously, will lead to a state of excellent health.

Interest in the course is growing. In answer to many calls to your reporter, the classes are held at the Sikh Temple, 1210 Topaz, from 9.30 to 10.30 in the morning, and from 6.30 to 7.30 in the evening daily.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

EXPEDITION ECHO

AN ARCTIC tragedy which stirred the world more than a hundred years ago was recalled by the recent romantic find of an Ottawa seismologist. While returning from a 14 months' tour of duty recording earthquakes at lonely Resolute Bay, Peter Bremner came across a cairn of stones on the shore of Cornwallis Island, about 2,000 miles north of Winnipeg.

A later search brought to light a sealed canister containing a message, written in August, 1851, by a party searching in vain for Sir John Franklin's ill-fated expedition to find the Northwest Passage. The message was signed by a British naval officer.

LOCAL LEAFLET

THAT REPORT struck a chord in my memory and started me rummaging through a collection of old books and papers which we possess. In it I found an old poster issued by the British Columbia government in 1896, calling the attention of the public to another ill-fated expedition to the then little-known Arctic fastnesses.

But on that occasion the proposed expedition was by balloon to the North Pole—a particularly hazardous adventure contemplated by a party of Swedish scientists.

ASKED TO HELP

DATED May 30, 1896, and issued from the Provincial Secretary's office under the signature of A. Campbell Reddie, deputy Provincial Secretary, this interesting poster reads as follows:

NOTICE

"Public notice is hereby given that the Government of His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway purposes sending, in the summer of 1896, a balloon expedition to the North Pole for exploration in the interests of science. The balloon will carry a party of three Swedish scientists, namely: Mr. Salomon August Andre, aged 42, Dr. Nils Gustaf Ekholm, aged 48, and Mr. Nils Strindberg, aged 24. It is understood that the expedition will start from Spitzbergen in the early summer.

The Swedish and Norwegian Minister at the Court of St. James's having, in the name of His Government, invoked the assistance of Her Majesty's Government with a view to making it generally known in the British Possessions adjacent to the Polar Basin that the expedition in question will be attempted and the Swedish Government being also anxious that the project should be made known to the authorities in other parts of Canada and to the general public in the Dominion, through the medium of the press, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies has requested His Excellency's Government to do all in their power to meet the wishes of the Government of His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway in this matter.

Accordingly, Her Majesty's loyal subjects throughout the Province of British Columbia are hereby notified in the premises and are requested to give the expedition, should an opportunity present itself, all the help in their power. If the balloon be seen only and no communication be had with the expedition, it is requested that the following particulars may be noted and communicated either to a local newspaper or to this office, namely: the day and the hour in which the balloon was seen, the direction of the balloon, and the direction of the wind.

Should any accident befall the expedition and should they arrive in any locality, having lost the balloon, the ignominious are asked to give them all possible assistance.

DIED IN ATTEMPT

EVIDENTLY the balloon never reached British Columbia, for the first attempt by Andre, the Swedish aeronautical engineer, failed because of air conditions. He made a second attempt in 1897, but the men carried little bedding or suitable clothing for the rigors of the northern climate. After tremendous effort, the scientists reached White Island, where they seemingly died of exposure. Expedition after expedition tried to find them, but it was not until 1930 that their remains were discovered, along with their equipment and Andre's diaries.

That interesting little bit of B.C. history is another reminder of how far we have advanced in the conquest, not only of the North Pole, but of the air, in the intervening 55 years.

WON'T ADMIT DEFEAT

Jaycees Still Press For Games On Sunday

The Sunday sports referendum turned down by the City Council as outside its jurisdiction, is far from being a dead issue as far as the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce is concerned.

It is seeking additional legal opinion. If it supports opinion already gathered by the Chamber, that the referendum is not outside city jurisdiction, the matter will be pressed, Donald Anderson, president, said today.

A petition signed by 2,500 was presented at the City Hall, but the Chamber said it could not vouch for more than 1,000 as persons with their names on the voters' list.

Anderson said if legal opinion backs the referendum, the Chamber will gather the necessary names to the petition to make up the 20 per cent of the voters' list required.

"A referendum could be called anytime, not just at election time," said Anderson.

Harassed By Union Thorp Won't Serve

SIDNEY—Union wage demands on School Board 63 have discouraged Percy Thorp, chairman, from seeking re-election for a second two-year term," he said today.

"I'm sitting as chairman of a board spending $250,000 I want full authority," he said.

"I can't have that as long as employees are demanding higher wages, extra paid holidays, cumulative sick leave and a medical services assistance contract for which the board is asked to contribute half the cost," he said.

SPEED LAND CLEARANCE

PERTH, Australia (Reuters)—Land clearing in western Australia will be speeded up by a locally-designed, seven-ton mechanical rake towed behind a bulldozer, which cuts a seven-foot swathe through scrub roots and debris, leaving the land ready for a preliminary sowing.

Tory Dissidents Rapped By Lewis

'Let Them Go To The Devil,' Comment Of Esquimalt Conservative Leader

By GORDON FORBES

If some federal Progressive Conservatives don't like Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb leading their party in British Columbia, "let them go to the devil," Col. A. G. B. Lewis, re-elected president of the Esquimalt district P.C.'s said Wednesday night.

Col. Lewis was addressing the association's annual meeting at Langford Community Hall and he was pulling no punches.

"If we pull away from them, they'd get no support in this province and they know it," declared the president. "We've got a leader who knows where he's going. He's the finest man in the party and we'll stay behind him."

The president said one of the P.C.'s troubles was there were two organizations in B.C.—federal group and the provincial section.

"I can't see why there are two groups. We're all Progressive Conservatives and we'll only win by pulling together," he said.

Although "the Victoria Times has some of the finest editorials I've ever read," Col. Lewis said, some recent ones about the P.C.'s were "comic."

Col. Lewis introduced Anscomb as "the next premier of B.C." Previously, by a slip of the tongue, he had referred to the minister as "Premier Anscomb."

Anscomb started right off by telling the meeting he didn't know when a general election is going to be called. The Coalition government, he said, was elected for five years and is "moving along very satisfactorily indeed." Unless the international situation took a grave turn for the worse, Anscomb said the P.C.'s will be "back where we started" when the next election comes.

"Indications are we will be travelling alone," said the party leader. "Our duty is to get the party as strong as possible. We have a perfect right to see that we are strong. It is your duty and mine to see that our organization is complete in every riding. That's nothing to hide. I expect every other party will do the same."

"Our party is the people's party," he said. "I haven't the slightest doubt we are going to take power in B.C. We're going to be prepared for anything. Just suppose we had another Coalition government, shouldn't we still be strong so we can deal with any eventualities? No matter what happens the Progressive Conservative party will be respected by friend and foe."

He stressed he wasn't implying there would be another Coalition government.

Senator Warns Government To Go Slow In Setting Up Price Fixing

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (BUP).—A Liberal senator warned the government Wednesday night to "go slow" on legislation to stop price fixing at the retail level.

Sen. Walter Hayden (Toronto) said that retail price fixing by manufacturers was a "small thing" and that the government would be better advised to take up "other matters towards which our efforts might be more usefully directed in the fight against inflation."

Retail price fixing on the part of the manufacturers, he added, protected the quality of their goods, and protected the small retailers from the effects of price wars.

Hayden, commenting on the government's announced intention of outlawing retail price

TORY PROTESTS SUBSTITUTING WORD 'CANADA' FOR 'DOMINION'

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (BUP).—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said that there had been no correspondence since 1947 with Commonwealth countries on the dropping of the word "Dominion" from federal statutes.

The Prime Minister made the statement Wednesday during a request to E. D. Fulton (P.C.-Kamloops) to drop a motion asking that all correspondence on the matter be tabled in Parliament.

Fulton placed the motion on the Commons order paper after protesting strongly against the government's substituting the word "Canada" for "Dominion" in federal statutes.

should be no hurry to readjust the free economy of Canada by prohibiting resale price maintenance at this time when we are told, the tendency is for prices to go up."

"My submission," the senator said, "is that we are attempting at this time to take a pot-shot at something that sounds awfully good in theory, at a practice that can be flailed publicly and in general terms."

"Go slow," he urged. "There

Condensed from CP, AP, and UP Dispatches

COMMITTED—In Oakland, Calif., Harold Cornsweat, 37, former State football star and Hollywood bit player who kidnapped his estranged wife and their two children three months ago, has been ordered committed to Mendocino State Hospital.

Superior Judge Charles Wade Snook ordered Cornsweat's commitment after psychiatrists testified he was mentally disturbed and in need of treatment.

ENCORE—In New York adventure Clyde Deas and his little dog sailed toward San Francisco today on a voyage that may take two years to complete.

Deal, who crossed the Atlantic last year with the dog in the same 33-foot engineless sailboat, said the difficult journey would take him through the hazardous Straits of Magellan on the tip of South America.

"I just want to see if I can do it," Deal, a former Coast Guardsman of Red Bank, N.J., said as he gave his sloop a final inspection before sailing.

TRADITIONAL—In Key West, Fla., President Truman, his wife and several guests sat down today to the traditional Thanksgiving turkey dinner at the vacation White House.

Navy Filipino mess cooks prepared a menu which included a cocktail of South Florida shrimp, roast turkey and dressing, green peas and sweet potatoes, pineapple and cottage cheese salad, plum pudding and demitasse.

KILLER—In Washington, N.C., a Negro who was paroled from prison last year over the objections of a sheriff shotgunned a white man to death Wednesday night and kidnapped his nightgown-clad wife.

Mrs. Opal Moore Boyd, 20, terrified and shocked over the experience of witnessing the brutal slaying of her husband, Charlie, 21, was carried on a wild ride in the trunk of the family car.

She was rescued by sheer accident when Lafayette Miller, her abductor, was halted by highway patrolmen who wanted to make a routine check on the man's driving license.

The officers heard Mrs. Boyd's screams from within the trunk and released her, half frozen and in a state of shock.

PAINLESS—In Seattle, Wash., Dr. T. A. Loomis of the department of pharmacology at the University of Washington said today a third-year medical student had discovered a new drug which painlessly prevents blood clotting.

He said the drug, as yet unnamed, had proven satisfactory in tests on human beings and was being patented by the university. Dr. Loomis said the drug would be distributed by licensed pharmaceutical houses.

ENTERPRISING—In Washington an enterprising firm behind the Iron Curtain tried to do a little business with the Voice of America.

The Communist-controlled music house, Kultura, in Hungary, offered to sell the voice some records it called "widely popular."

They were entitled "Stalin's Praise," "Stalin's Oath," "Stalin Cantata," "Stalin Has Led Us," "The Stalin Harvest," and "To the Name of Stalin."

The voice said it doubted the records were as popular as Kultura claimed. It didn't buy.

MISBRANDED—In Seattle, Wash., the United States marshal's office seized more than 125,000 pounds of salmon after U.S. food and drug agents said it was "misbranded and decomposed."

Some of the salmon was intended for troops in Korea, the government officials said.

Kenneth Monfere of the food and drug administration in Seattle, said 2,556 cases of salmon were labeled as silver salmon, and tests showed it to be chum or dog salmon, an inferior species.

Probe Fails To Explain Reason For Span Failure

QUEBEC, Nov. 22 (CP)—A commission inquiry has failed to solve the riddle of collapse of the $3,500,000 Duplessis Bridge Jan. 31 at Three Rivers.

The commission's report, issued today by Premier Duplessis, said evidence suggested two hypotheses:

1. An unknown scientific cause.
2. Sabotage.

REPORT BIG THREE, ADENAUER AGREE ON WEST GERMAN PLANS

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 22 (AP)—An American source here said today that the Big Three western foreign ministers and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer "have reached full agreement" in Paris on the main principles for restoring sovereignty to West Germany.

The informants said the United States high commissioner, John M. McCloy, had informed his staff in a telephone call from Paris that the German-Allied negotiations there had achieved success.

Adenauer met in Paris today for the first time with State Secretary Dean Acheson, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France to discuss West Germany's future as a country and as a partner in European defense.

The West German chancellor had gone to Paris in an effort to cut through differences which blocked conclusion of a contract to end western rule over his part of Germany.

These two "most probable" causes mentioned by the commission, Magistrate Rene Lippe and engineer Lucien Dansereau, both of Montreal, were included in "subsidiary conclusions" of their 30,000-word report. The main conclusions based on evidence heard at Three Rivers from Aug. 27 to Sept. 26 were:

The bridge failure was due to "rupture" of one of the main steel beams in its super-structure.

NO NEGLIGENCE
There was no "fault or negligence" by the government, its department or officers, or by the builders of the bridge or their employees.

The report said not one of the engineering experts—Ernest E. Howard of Kansas City, Dr. Clarence R. Young of Toronto and Antonio Lalonde of Montreal—was able to explain the collapse.

The commissioners dismissed in a few lines any possibility that Dufresne Engineering Co. Ltd., the government's building agent and contracting firm for the concrete understructure, had been at fault.

Their report said four mills that supplied steel to the Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd. for the Duplessis Bridge met specifications.

It declared that the Dominion Bridge Co., which worked out the detailed super-structure plans and fabricated the steelwork fulfilled all the terms of its subcontract.

2 British Troops Killed In Latest Egypt Rioting

PORT SAID, Egypt, Nov. 22 (Reuters)—Two British soldiers were killed, bombs were tossed at a British army headquarters and telephone communications cut in the latest wave of violence reported today in the troubled Suez Canal zone.

The soldiers were killed Wednesday night in an ambush in the dock area of Port Said.

The men had been visiting their families, evacuated a few weeks ago to the western side of the Suez Canal.

Their truck was sprayed with a burst of tommy-gun fire as it was about to enter a dock gate. Two other soldiers were wounded.

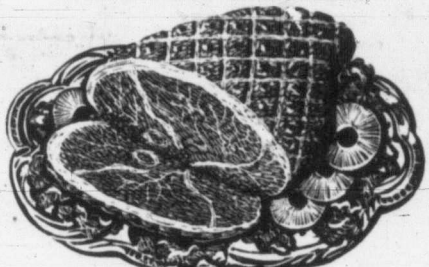

This attack brought British casualties in the Suez Canal area since last weekend to nine dead and six wounded.

Bombs were thrown at a school being used as a British army headquarters in Ismailia. There was no damage and no one was hurt.

N.Y.K. Resumes Trans-Pacific Service

SEATTLE, Nov. 21 (UP)—The Japanese freighter Helyo Maru arrives here Friday morning on its first regularly scheduled voyage to Seattle in 10 years and the Chamber of Commerce plans to give her a rousing welcome.

A welcoming party, headed by Mayor William F. Devin, will meet the vessel as she enters Seattle's Elliott Bay. Dockside ceremonies at Pier 51 also are planned.

The Helyo Maru is owned by the N.Y.K. line, the first steamship company to establish regular scheduled service to Seattle. The schedule was maintained from 1896 until the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

It Will Hurt

PERHAPS THE MOST POPULAR FALLACY in Canada these days is the belief that we can overcome inflation without hurting anybody.

Deflation, even a mild deflation, is bound to hurt somebody. The merchant whose business is reduced by credit restrictions has been hurt somewhat already. Some non-essential industries, like tobacco, for example, are feeling the squeeze when consumers, repelled by high prices, reduce their purchases of cigarettes. The automobile industry is not doing quite as well as it did during the unprecedented boom in the first quarter of the year. Now provincial and municipal governments find that they cannot borrow money as cheaply as before and must postpone some of their public works. All this is the first cold breath of deflation and it hurts.

But inflation hurts more. Those who now find that their profits are down a little should remember that in the last ten years every Canadian who has saved money in fixed investments has lost half of it. In actual purchasing power. The very people who, by saving, postponed their demand for goods instead of bidding up prices in a time of short supply, the very people who bought government bonds at the urgent request of their government in wartime, have been selected for the high honor of giving away half of their wealth. They and the pensioners and others on fixed incomes have been cruelly hurt.

That, however, is only the beginning of the hurt. If inflation goes on. Conceivably here, as in other countries, the money of all savers could be wiped out and the hurt limited to these people without affecting anybody else. If inflation did not have further and more devastating results.

We know from history, however, that inflation does not confine itself to the ruin of the savers. It produces such distortions of the economy, it creates such conflicts between those who are losing and those who seem to be gaining, it produces such a revolution against the existing social order that no system, so undermined, has ever endured. Democracy cannot stand inflation beyond a certain point.

That point is usually reached when prices are so high that a large sector of the community cannot pay them, whereupon a falling demand suddenly paralyzes industry, throws workers out of work and produces a deflationary depression. That is the end cure for inflation—but it is almost worse than the disease.

Yet when the Canadian Government tries to prevent this culmination by using deflationary measures against inflation, some people scream that they are being hurt. Of course they are and may be hurt more yet, but the alternative is disaster for everybody.

Unless this is well understood the government will have great difficulty in applying even the mild deflationary policies now in train. For example, the Conservative party, having demanded deflation for the last year, now protests that the government is going too far. It demands a reduction in excessive money supply but when the government tries to reduce it by such measures as high taxes, increased interest rates and credit restrictions, the Conservative party denounces today the remedy which it prescribed yesterday.

Neither the Conservative party nor the public can have it both ways. If we are to have deflation, even in mild dosage, it will surely hurt. The practical question in Canadian politics is whether as a nation we have the sense to realize the much more hurtful alternative.

Labor On Profits

IN DISCUSSING THE SUBJECT OF profits and wages the British Labor party can hardly be considered a champion of the employer and the enemy of the employee. Yet this is what the Labor party, in a recent pamphlet, says of profits:

"They are, very small part of the cost of any item so, although there are very many excellent reasons for dividend limitation and profit control, their effectiveness as a means of reducing the cost of living is not one of them."

Whether limitation of dividends is wise or not is a matter of dispute. The British people have elected a new government which will not go ahead with the former government's plan to limit dividends. But whether the Labor or Conservative position in this aspect of the matter is wise, the Labor party's statement is certainly clear on one point—no real effect on living costs can be wrung from profits. "A reduction in distributed profits could do little to reduce prices," the Labor party concludes.

The Labor party's pamphlet adds this explanation of the need for profits in business: "Profits cater for the creation of reserves to pay for expansion and re-equipment and the additional money manufacturers want to pay dividends to their shareholders. The more money firms put aside to develop new methods of production, the more consumers have to pay now for goods. But new equipment and better laid-out factories mean more efficient production, lower costs, and the possibility of lower prices in the long run. If the money to pay for this were not raised from profits it would have to be raised in some other way."

In Canada at the moment a large proportion of the profits of the great industries is going into new plants which will later increase production and the general wealth of the nation. Several large industrial developments on Vancouver Island illustrate this process.

Even when profits are paid to shareholders and not directly invested in expansion a good part of this money, is reinvested by its owners in expanding companies. One of the most remarkable illusions about profits is that somehow they are lost to the community at large, as if they were burned by their recipients. In fact they quickly find their way from the hands of their first owners into other hands, constantly moving throughout the economy.

Profits spent on goods make jobs for the producers of those goods. Profits spent on industrial expansion make more jobs directly for the workers of the new industries whose wages, in turn, are spent to make jobs for others. No money, whether paid in profits or wages, is ever lost. It keeps moving.

In Canada at present the government's problem is not to encourage the investment of profits in industrial expansion, but to hold down and postpone investment which is, for the moment, too large and too fast. It drains off more materials and manpower than the nation can afford if it is to maintain its current output of consumer goods. It creates more jobs than the population can fill. It is a major factor of inflation today, though tomorrow the output of the new factories will help to reduce prices.

Finally, it should be remembered that while profits are currently large, roughly half of them are taken immediately in corporation taxes and then the dividends are taxed over again, through the personal income tax, when they reach the shareholder. The danger is not that profits, now taxed twice, will not be taxed enough, but that they will be taxed to the point where business will see no use in expanding and increasing the nation's wealth.

We Can Do Without Them

THE SOCIAL CREDIT PARTY OF Alberta has an unquestioned right to organize in British Columbia and profit by discontent within the Conservative party, if it can. But most British Columbians, we believe, will object when members of the Alberta government come here and tell us how to run our provincial business.

Recently, Mr. David Ure, Alberta's minister of agriculture, felt compelled to rush to British Columbia's rescue. At New Westminster he delivered a bitter attack on the present provincial government which he asked the electors to overthrow immediately. This, to say the least of it, is a remarkable display of bad manners. What would Mr. Ure think if Premier Johnson, went to Edmonton to advocate the overthrow of Mr. Manning's government?

The Alberta government, however, is not the first to venture into the politics of another province. Premier Douglas, of Saskatchewan, has felt obliged, by a socialist evangel too large and important to be confined within his own province, to campaign in British Columbia and Alberta. After listening to Mr. Douglas both provinces voted overwhelmingly against the C.C.F. The Saskatchewan performer was box office poison.

Lately Mr. Douglas has delivered by radio an address to the voters of Ontario, who will vote this month. It will be interesting to see how much they have been impressed by the advice from Saskatchewan.

The provincial governments all have plenty of their own business to keep them occupied, without solving the problems of their neighbors. These governments are frequently called together to consider the problems of the nation, as they affect the provinces. If, between such conferences, they are busy cutting one another's throats in the struggles of local politics it will be difficult if not impossible for them to achieve any unity in larger affairs. Nothing is better calculated to split the nation into hostile groups than this inter-provincial interference.

And nothing is better calculated to damage a party in provincial politics than the unwanted advice and agitation of outsiders. If the Social Credit party wishes to succeed in British Columbia it will advise the Alberta cabinet ministers to stay at home.

Heads Down, Everybody

ON THE FRONT PAGE OF THIS newspaper last Saturday appeared a picture of a young gentleman in bathing trunks. He was standing on his head, with his knees bent and his feet neatly tucked into place to achieve a certain physical symmetry.

The young gentleman, Swami Shivanand, reportedly announced he could stay in that position for 30 minutes without breathing. The pose, apart from drawing attention to the individual in question, presumably helped him to achieve a certain physical development.

It seems, however, that Swami Shivanand has ignored one of the most valuable features of his unusual but not unique posture—Mr. Belvedere did it in "Sitting Pretty." Surely, in that position, many of the peculiarities of our world are more easily understandable.

From an upside-down stance an individual might comprehend more thoroughly the logic of a popular attack on inflation—the approach, which starts with higher wages, leads to higher prices and in some esoteric manner reduces the cost of living.

From that inverted point of view any number of problems should be seen in logical perspective—how to make the government spend more money and at the same time reduce taxes, how to win hockey games by throwing cushions on the ice, how to avoid car accidents by scaring other drivers off the road.

Swami Shivanand, though reticent on that phase of his exercises, has shown us "the way." If the world is upside-down why don't its inhabitants conform? Now if everyone will stand on his or her head...

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

WISHING TO BUY his six-year-old gunman a really high-class and durable cap-pistol, a friend of ours brought home a comparatively expensive and very intricate model. It was obviously made by expert gunsmiths. As a label on the carton said: "The workmanship on this gun is a tribute to the prowess of our workmen. It speaks for itself." (Then why mention it?)

The only fault our friend could find was that when the ingenious and well-made insides fell apart, neither he nor his son could stick them together again. Consulting the carton for more information, he was told: "Take it apart, put it together. The principle involved will prove a fascinating game for young and old." He agreed it was a tough puzzle. But he didn't want a puzzle, he wanted a gun. Fascinating as a puzzle, but he loathed puzzles, and was no good at puzzles.

SO HE FLIPPED the box over in search of something a bit more instructive and less jargon, and the makers told him this: "This Cap Gun has been made as a Mechanical Toy. Should you require spare parts, they will be available for your convenience. It will be enjoyment as a toy and a test of your mechanical ability."

With a horrible feeling that he was somehow back at school, being told how good for him was every nasty and impossible task, he tried once more to fix the wretched weapon. . . . and to enjoy the test of his ability. With savage cries and curses he flung himself on it. Then he flung it away from him. "Would this help?" asked his son producing a folder from inside the box. It read: "No used gun to be returned for repairs, as we feel any intelligent person obtaining the parts is able to fix his own gun." Now they were getting insulting.

BUT IT did help, slightly, for he realized this meant that guns had been streaming back from other families all over the place. Which proved he wasn't alone in his troubles. But what he now asks is this: "What right have the makers to require me to be intelligent if I don't want to? How can they assume you must be intelligent to want a cap gun anyway? Why do they say it is a fascinating puzzle and then say it is 'easy as anything'?" That's three fallacies right there. And I've got a feeling there's a fourth fallacy inside the design of that damned gun.

I might add that this gun is NOT a Japanese joke, but is made in Canada. Name on request. You may inspect the carton too, if you like. But please don't lose it. My friend wants to keep it. Though he doesn't want to keep the gun.

TIME LAG

MANY of my preparations for Christmas are well in hand, thank you. (Hoping yours are the same, and I'm sorry to bring this subject up in November if it annoys you.) I have conferred with the printer about the need to get cards posted to New Zealand and South Africa somewhat before Christmas Eve. . . . and this year he agrees with me, though in former years he thought I was exaggerating as usual, and he sometimes took a month to print my piffing card. I have got off a few parcels to the outposts. I have even made a pretty complete list of the things to be bought in the next few weeks. . . . which sounds fuzzy, but is really meant to avoid fuss. But there's one big job I have been shirking. And that is to get the children's Halloween candies destroyed before their Christmas ones crop up and need destruction in their turn.

THE CHILDREN, luckily, do not feel badly deprived by this wholesale confiscation. They enjoy a sweet now and then. . . . and even prefer good ones to bad ones, which is unusual. They have almost got into the way of cleaning their teeth afterwards, too, so that a few sweets do them as little damage as possible. But they are not maniacs on the subject. Indeed, they roared with laughter when I told them that a psychologist has said a child's mania for candy is very natural and must be encouraged, lest he suffer worse insanity later.

On a trip to the dentist last month they astounded this good man. He said he had never seen four kids in a single family without one cavity, and he insisted on X-raying them all, just to make sure they weren't fooling him somehow. The kids didn't offer to pay for the X-rays with what they save on candy, but I didn't mind. I can always make a few bucks by selling the candy I confiscate.

BUT at present I just burn it. And the kids know, and don't care a rap. The only thing is, I feel wasteful doing it, so I keep putting it off. I feel I should keep it for next Halloween, to force on another man's innocent but gluttonous youngsters. And in my time I have kept it a whole year for that, too, giving away that year what the kids brought home the year before. But my wife objected to finding cheap bullseyes and lollipops and jellybeans in the china cabinet and the stationery drawer and the piano bench and everywhere, so I reformed. And now I throw out Christmas candy at Valentine's Day, Valentine candy at Easter, Easter candy at birthday time, birthday candy at Halloween, and Halloween candy at Christmas. That's what you call a time-lag, a scientific term for Old Man Procrastination.

Not All Theirs

Toronto Globe and Mail

In a recent article on this page Mr. Alastair Buchan remarked that Mr. Winston Churchill, being half-American (his mother was a New Yorker) is looked upon by Americans as "a special kind of Marshall Aid, an American gift to a beleaguered Motherland." It is an intriguing way to illustrate American thinking. People of the United States, being justifiably sure that they have created a productive plant of a high and probably unrivalled order in their own country, can be forgiven for thinking that ingenuity, ability and go-get-it in other lands are somehow traceable to themselves.

As Our Readers See It

VETERANS ALLOWANCE

Why cannot the old people that have to live on veterans allowance get this new $40 a month old age pension that is coming up in January? The civil servants will get it, and also lots of people in good circumstances much better off than the people that live on a veterans allowance.

FAIR PLAY.

POINTED QUESTIONS

Picking up one of Bruce Hutchison's "Loose Ends"—"Shed No Tears"—almost unconsciously one is apt to find himself tangled up in a maze of reflection by such phrases as "that instinct of savagery which always lies under the thin surface of civilization and which, if finally released, will destroy civilization altogether."

Can it be, that with all our vaunted education and university degrees we have missed something basically important? Is it possible, that with all our scientific attainment, all our "ologies," we have left out the one that matters most: "Humanology," the science of man himself—his ingredients?

Have we utterly failed to teach our children—or ourselves, that in an atomic age and a shrinking world, the primary purpose of education should be that we may learn to live together—if we don't want to die together?

Have we, wilfully or ignorantly, ignored the fact that man, in spite of all his generous impulses, has certain weaknesses which, if not guarded against, will eventually destroy him? Do we deny that, by and large, the story of man is the story of the conflict between the spirit of creature understanding and the grisly ghosts born out of the night of his ancestry?

Are we afraid to face the fact that all the way through, man-in-the-mass has been only too ready to follow the "pied piper" who plays to his passion, pride and prejudice. In "Aladdin's Lamp" the "Genie" escaped when the lid came off the bottle. Listening to the rising clamor which demands the immediate use of the atomic bomb one wonders how soon it will be before the lid which now partly confines the monster who would destroy civilization—will be quite pried off.

Explains His Party's Stand

Thank you for this opportunity of clarifying the confusion that some people have had regarding the Social Credit movement in B.C.

The Social Credit Association of Canada, of which the Rev. Hansel, M.P., is president, and Solon E. Low, M.P., is political leader in Canada, is represented provincially by Leagues. Thus we have the Social Credit League of Alberta who are in power there and of which Premier Manning is the political leader. In British Columbia it is the Social Credit League of B.C. and as yet we have not elected a political leader. The Victoria Social Credit Group is Victoria's chartered representation of the B.C. League.

In Victoria as elsewhere member groups of the provincial leagues are formed by people from all walks of life, religions, nationalities, and political beliefs. The reason being that Social Credit is firstly a way of life and only becomes a political force of necessity.

It is a common occurrence now for people to say that what Social Credit really is, is the true interpretation of whatever political belief they themselves have had, whether Liberal, Conservative or Socialist. I would say our membership is made up of roughly one-third Liberals, one-third Conservatives and one-third C.C.F. and others.

The important thing is, however, that they are thinking people who realize that they don't have to sit idly by while their birthright is wantonly thrown to the winds and their children's future mortgaged to the hilt by those people who believe in government on the people instead of government for the people.

Certainly we appeal to Conservatives to join our growing ranks. We appeal to any and all thinking citizens whether Liberal, Conservative or Socialist. Thinking people in B.C. have been aroused.

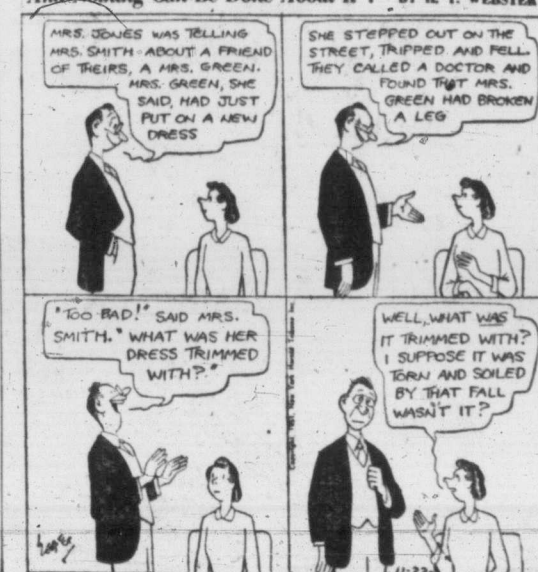

The fact that the old parties have been unable to solve modern problems is regrettable—especially to a traditionalist like myself. But there are certain beliefs and convictions which come before party politics: the sanctity of individual personal rights; a determined stand for the benefits of free and private enterprise without monopoly; planning and working for the future release from our public debt bondage, which results in abnormally high taxation now and for years to come (under present governments other than Alberta's) and equitable financial returns from the natural resources of a province for the benefit of its people.

God made individual man master of all things material. It is man who has shackled himself with economic and material limitations. As he has devised to shackle himself so can he devise his release. This is possible by a determined and co-operative effort, which is today clearly noted only in the program and activities of the Social Credit Association of Canada and its provincial leagues and chartered groups.

THANKSGIVING DAY

"We are bound to thank God." —2 Thess. 1:3.

O Lord, here on this bright Thanksgiving . . . Thank you a million just for living! . . . And thanks for turkey and pumpkin pie. . . . I thank you that I'm getting by. . . . I'm grateful for my friends and kin. . . . Thanks for my health. I can't begin. . . . To thank you for each little thing. . . . I take for granted, I would bring. . . . My gratitude to You this day. . . . So much for which I did not pray.

Interim Dictator Egypt's Need?

By STEWART ALSOP, from Cairo

ON LEAVING such a city as this, it is difficult not to give way to a sense of despair. For here, in this curious, unpleasant atmosphere (the air has a sweet, cloying smell, rather like a baby's diaper), it sometimes seems that the isolationists are right; that we should retire into our continental Gibraltar, eat our lotus leaves while we may, and await our inevitable end.

Given a good deal more shrewdness and foresight than London and Washington have customarily displayed in these parts, the situation might be glued together here, so that it can be rendered more or less manageable for a time—and what happens after that?

The plain fact is that this is an essentially revolutionary situation. It is true that Americans are apt to be overly horrified by the fantastic contrast between wealth and poverty in such places as Egypt (a contrast to, which those from the "capitalist, reactionary" United States are far less accustomed than Europeans). It is true that this contrast has existed since the time of the Pharaohs. Yet the essential fact remains.

The structure of society here—the ruthless exploitation of the many by the very few who own all the land and therefore all the wealth—simply cannot stand up indefinitely. For all sorts of technological and political reasons, some sort of basic and probably violent change is inevitable here. In such a situation, those who stand for violent change are likely ultimately to profit, while those who seem to stand for things as they are will surely lose.

Although it is easy to state the dilemma, it is impossible clearly to see the way out of it. Yet two points may be worth considering.

In the first place, we ought to stop talking nonsense about democracy. Talking about democracy is talking nonsense, as concerns countries like this, where the great majority of the population lives rather below the level of their animals.

MOB APPEAL

Democracy here means simply that politicians must outbid each other for the support of the street mobs. This in turn leads straight to the most vicious extremism—"Kill the Jews" yesterday, "Kill the British" today, "Kill the Americans" tomorrow. A wise Anglo-American policy here could bolster the moderates for a time, but if the moderates are not assassinated anyway, the extremists will always overtake them in the end.

The second point follows the first. What is needed in this sort of situation is a reasonably enlightened dictatorship. The model is Turkey's Kemal Ataturk, who, by making basic changes, transformed a crumbling, corrupt and anarchic society, much like Egypt's today, into a modern state. Though though it may have been, Ataturk's dictatorship laid the groundwork for the democracy which now functions so surprisingly well in Turkey.

The problem, of course, is to find your Ataturk—in a pinch, we should certainly settle for a Reza Shah Pahlevi. It is hopeless to expect a stage of the West to exercise power—no stage of the West could rule. Any stage of the moderates, moreover, would in the long run spell victory for the Soviets, since what is needed is precisely the sort of change, including land reform, which the Pashas most fear.

At any rate, it is time to strip ourselves of our illusions. It comes hard for any American to find himself advocating authoritarian rule anywhere. But the fact remains—the kind of rational dictator who will instill himself in the defense of his country and in the basic change which his country needs to survive as an independent state, is the best we can hope for in such places as Egypt.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"IT'S a surprise to me," said the Elevator Man, "to learn there's a National Weed Society. You know, I think it was a country-wide organization of smokers, or something, to hear it. These fellows are devotees of the weed, all right, but they're devoted to killing them. They're engaged in smoking them out rather than smoking them up. It seems that weeds cost farmers a good many millions of dollars every year. That's something every gardener can appreciate, I guess. So the boys have got together to do something about it, and they're hoping that chemicals will provide the answer. If they can just kill off all the things that shouldn't be growing, without hurting the things that should be, everything will be fine. But it looks like it'll be a long time before we're out of the weeds—I mean the weeds. Going up!"

"Even at that," said the Elevator Man, "the agriculturalist has an easier time of it than the sociologist. If the farmer had to save all his weeds and bring them up to be useful food or flowers he'd be in the fix of the social worker who has to salvage the human weeds that spoil society's crop. You can't just kill off the human ones, neat and tidy as that might be. You have to try and make wheat out of your couch grass and orchids out of your morning glory when you're dealing with man—the so-called flower of creation. And the best way seems to be to get at the roots of the trouble by changing the soil. That's the big difference between the two problems. A weed is a weed in any soil, but what the human weed turns out to be seems to depend a lot on what it grows in. Slums, back alleys, pool halls and such environments put out more weeds than we want to have. Where a youngster plays is also where he works at creating the adult he's going to be. Mezzanine!"

"Of course," said the Elevator Man, "life plans don't always work out. Often they have to be amendments. As the philosopher said, 'In youth a man gets together the materials to build a bridge to the stars.' In middle life, he revises his program and uses the stuff to make a woodshed."

Attacks Don't Spoil Sleep

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb is a sound sleeper. At an Esquimalt District Progressive Conservative Association annual meeting Wednesday night at Langford, one constituent wanted to organize a committee to reply to letters in the newspapers attacking the Tory leader.

"They should be answered," said one man. It would neutralize the effect on people.

"Only fools write letters to the paper," said president Col. A. G. B. Lewis.

"I sleep well every night. I assure you of that. They don't bother me," interjected Anscomb. The proposal was dropped.

Col. Lewis was re-elected president of the association and Capt. P. W. de P. Taylor re-elected vice-president. Second vice-president is Capt. Alex Spiers, and third vice-president, George McGregor.

John Fox, secretary-treasurer for the last four years, withdrew and the position was split. Capt. Maurice Burbidge was elected secretary and Capt. Fred Higgins, treasurer.

ON THE LABOR SCENE

By DAVE STOCK

Thirty days ago 431 workers in British Columbia's four principal breweries were called out by the International Union of Brewery and Distillers Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) to back up demands for a 35-cent-an-hour pay boost when the companies said the most they could offer was 25 cents.

That was 30 days ago. Since then there has been no move by either side to meet and discuss settlement. Why?

It would appear they expect a party of the third part to intervene and bring about settlement. And the suggestion is the third party would be the provincial government.

By virtue of the fact the government regulates the sale of beer in the province it cannot say it is not interested in the strike. It is most unlikely, however, that it wants to become directly involved. Nevertheless, it is known one cabinet member already has been approached by certain mainland hotelmen, who are being pinched by the beer

TCL Selects Delegates For Parley

Percy Rayment and Harold Thayer will represent the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at a T.L.C. provincial meeting to be held next month at Penticton.

They were selected for the job Wednesday night.

Both are members of the council executive. Rayment is secretary. Thayer is chairman of the legislative committee.

They will carry with them to the Penticton parley a number of resolutions from Victoria. The resolutions were approved by the council at its Wednesday meeting.

One batch of resolutions will deal with B.C. Hospital Insurance. The council feels the present administration of the service is not satisfactory. It proposes less money be spent on public relations and costly advertising. It also suggests a central purchasing agency be set up to supply hospitals with medical requirements and equipment through tendering.

With regard to premiums, the council is continuing to urge a roll-back on premiums and elimination of co-insurance.

The council will again submit a number of resolutions dealing with proposed amendments to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, and will ask, in addition, that the provincial government petition federal authorities to allow federal employees the right to bargain collectively and sign collective agreements.

Guests Will Sing With Welsh Choir

Victoria Masonic Choir will give its annual concert Tuesday at 8:15 in Victoria High School auditorium.

Guest artists will be Catherine Craig-Dash, Scottish baritone J. J. Matheson and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who will sing solo and obligato parts in the choir's rendition of "The Omnipotence," by Schubert.

C. C. Warren will conduct and George H. Peaker will be accompanist.

Adam Bell To Open First Aid Parleys

The sixth annual convention of Industrial First Aid Attendants' Association will be held on Dec. 27 and 28 in the auditorium of the Medical-Dental Building, Vancouver.

The convention will be opened by Adam Bell, chairman of the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Board, former deputy minister of labor here.

Pharmacists Stand For Price Fix

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association said today that if resale price maintenance practices are made illegal, a price-cutting war will be unleashed which will lead to the formation of new monopolies.

It urged a special parliamentary committee on retail price-fixing not to support proposals to ban the practices, for it believed that "legislation to make price maintenance illegal will bring down all the corrosive forces of predatory price cutting on our economy."

Price-cutting, the association maintained in a brief presented to the committee, is not good marketing. "It is competition gone mad."

It joined forces with the Ontario Retail Druggists' Association to argue that resale price maintenance does not hurt the consumer; in fact he receives "substantial benefits from its existence."

"It is our opinion," said the national association, "that the abolition of price maintenance will do nothing to bring down the rising cost of living.

"It will unleash a price-cutting war which will create new monopolies and seriously curtail the distributive system by which the public gets its present efficient health service through drug stores."

If legislation against the price by which a manufacturer determines the price at which his

CANADA PRAISES GREEK FORCES

PARIS, Nov. 22 (CP).—Canada today paid tribute to Greek fighting forces and the United Nations' special commission on the Balkans for keeping Greece free.

R. M. Macdonnell, minister at the Canadian embassy in Paris, told the U.N. special political committee that Canada supports a proposal to wind up the successful operations of the Balkan commission and replace it with a standby group of the U.N. peace observation commission.

He said a Russian charge that the Balkan commission is a tool of the United States is an old red herring.

Pickets Out Again Despite Union Protest

Despite objection raised by the General Teamsters' Union, the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (T.L.C.) decided Wednesday night to lend its name in support of picket action proposed by the Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) against Stewart & Hudson Ltd.

The C.C.L. body, in a letter to the T.L.C. group, explained it intended to station pickets outside Gorge Road premises of the building supply firm to inform would-be customers that the firm was against a five-day 40-hour week.

Bob Milliken, of the General Teamsters' Union (T.L.C.), declared his union recently was certified for Stewart & Hudson drivers and had completed an agreement with the firm providing a 47-hour week for drivers and a 44-hour week for men inside the plant. He said the men concerned seemed quite satisfied. He asked the T.L.C. council take the firm off its "unfair" list.

His proposal was not seconded. When asked if teamsters would respect a protest picket line, Milliken said: "I don't think so."

Bishop Stepinac Will Be Freed, Says U.S. Newsman

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—The New York Times says today that Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia will announce "in the near future" the liberation of Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac. In a dispatch from Rome, C. L. Sulzberger, the Times' chief foreign correspondent, said: "The archbishop will be sent back to his native village of Krasic, where he will be permitted to live as a private individual and clergyman with full restoration of his civil rights on the condition that he does not engage in political activity considered to be against the interests of the state."

Archbishop Stepinac, now in Lepoglava prison, has served five years of a 16-year sentence on charges including wartime collaboration with the Axis powers.

Sulzberger says the archbishop will not be recognized as the Roman Catholic primate of Yugoslavia by the Belgrade government.

A.H.L. To Meet In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22 (AP)—The American Hockey League will meet here Dec. 11 to discuss rule changes and any pending disputes.

Another proposal which may be made deals with the plan of play-offs at the end of the season between Eastern and Western divisions. It has been suggested that the six teams with the highest total points for the regular season qualify for the play-offs, regardless of their division.

Names Key Figures In Bookmaking

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP)—Large-scale bookmaking could not have been carried on in Vancouver without the operation of a wire service relaying information from Seattle and other U.S. cities, Crown Prosecutor Gordon Scott said Wednesday.

Testifying at the preliminary hearing in police court of 34 persons charged with conspiring among themselves and with more than 250 others to carry on bookmaking here, he named E. Massie White, Harry Ashcroft and Harry Cawsey as the men who operated at this end of the service.

"Without this information," Mr. Scott charged, "bookmaking would have been curtailed here, or possibly couldn't be carried on at all."

"I will also show that some collaboration between bookies falls into groups, that the whole is tied together and dependent on the information of Massie White."

The hearing opened at 2 p.m. with Prosecutor Gordon Scott telling the court he would prove the existence of nine major groups within the bookmaking underworld here. Members of the major groups were the kingpins of the racket, he said.

All 34 accused elected for trial before a higher court.

Before a crowd of 500, Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes announced he would continue the preliminary hearing before committing the accused to higher court.

City Seeking Baseball Bill Settlement

Victoria Baseball and Athletic Company has been asked to pay $4,746 owing to the city. City Council finance committee at its last meeting ordered the letter sent.

Parks committee in October requested a decision or recommendation on arrangements to be made with the company for 1952 to enable parks department to plan activities for the following year.

The company owes the city $746 for 1950 and $4,000 for 1951, according to the comptroller-treasurer's department.

Finance committee has asked the company also to submit its 1951 financial statement to council as soon as it is available.

IBEW Back In Good Standing

The way is open for the Victoria local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers again to send delegates to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

The congress informed the district council Wednesday night, however, that tax difficulties have now been cleared up and the I.B.E.W. is once more in good standing.

GRID CONFERENCE TAKES NO ACTION ON SLUGGING

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 22 (UP)—The Missouri Valley Conference has announced it will take no "disciplinary action" against the Oklahoma A. and M. linemen who broke the jaw of Drake's ace halfback Johnny Bright.

Presidents and athletic representatives of conference teams said after a meeting Tuesday that under the present constitution "the conference has no authority to take disciplinary action against an individual player."

Bright, the nation's ground-gainer king, was injured Oct. 20 in the Drake-Oklahoma A. and M. game, won by the Aggies. Drake officials charged that guard Wilbanks Smith of the Aggies smacked Bright in the jaw deliberately early in the game.

Smith said he did it unintentionally.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Like the shattering ring of an alarm clock in the morning the dream ended. Gone were the hopes of a Canadian basketball championship. Gone were Norm Baker's chances of playing amateur basketball again this year.

Baker had been the name, the fire, behind the move. He had been picked as the greatest basketball player in the half century. He had gone on to pro greatness. He was to be the guinea pig in an effort to revive the sport here.

Walker

Well, he was the guinea pig and in the eyes of the Canadian Basketball Association rated no more than that though he'll forever be remembered as possibly the one guy that could have given the cage game a hypodermic where it was needed most.

However, the Canadian Basketball Association in its wisdom has seen fit to deny the sport the sedative it so badly requires, and quite within its rights, too. Or perhaps it was pressure from other groups who, with the Olympic Games in sight, wanted not to be tainted with professionalism in any form, specifically Baker.

Sure, Baker asked for amateur status once before and then threw it up for a more lucrative offer from Abe Saperstein. Sure, he looked after Baker. And apparently well, too. But now he's all through with that. Age should answer that question. A guy just can't go on playing professional basketball forever. And Baker wanted to wind up his career where it had its illustrious beginning (with due apologies to Nanaimo).

Some might argue that the place to start building a championship club is with the kids, and rightly so. But with nothing to look forward to, the kids soon lose interest.

It Could Have Been A Nicer Winter

It's been that way for the past few seasons. Basketball just peters out after intermediate, the senior B league being little more than an evening out for the boys.

However, so be it. Baker is out. The B.C. association, through President Wilf Cain, gave it a good try to get Baker reinstated, but when balked, clamped the lid down and in effect said, "Sorry, Norm. That's all. Have a good winter."

There have been meetings and more meetings. Everyone still seems interested in playing. And there's enough of the old crowd left to give it a good whirl when the B.C. championships roll around. The club even without Baker, but with Andrews and Vic Dale, is bound to be an improvement on last year's senior A aggregation. And last year's club only needed one or two men to make it a contender.

The Way Is Still Open For Norm

Personally, we would like to see the gang stick together, veterans though they may be. Perhaps there are a couple of rough diamonds who could be polished up in the process of putting the basket back in basketball. At least there's little danger of corruption. The high school won't hold enough fans to provide the incentive.

Baker? He could still be a great help, either as a coach, or, if he and the team desires, in an advisory capacity. Certainly this setback shouldn't be the end of the road if he's sincere in his intentions to assist the sport. Meanwhile, the C.A.B.A. should investigate the possibilities of promotion. B.C. President Wilf Cain could give that august body a few lessons.

There's a rumor that Victoria will be represented in next year's American Bowling Congress by a team from Strathcona Cafe. . . Personnel of the squad, which according to the report has received confirmation of entry, is not known. . . Bob Bowness of the Cougars turned in his best game with the club against Edmonton Flyers Tuesday night. . . Staffer Philip Lee, ex-Canadian doubles figure skating champion and an avid Canadian football fan who once called Winnipeg home has trained trainer and is picking Ottawa Roughriders to whip Regina in the Grey Cup final. . . He'll take all bets. . .

General manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cougars was seen making notes at last night's Commercial Hockey League games. . . players or lineamen, Hunch? . . . This morning's mail brought a post card from Hawaii where Dr. Jack Patterson and wife Tony are holidaying. Jack, former Golden Gloves winner and Shamrock's doctor last year tells us that they ran into Len Kasperovich in Honolulu. Lenny, who pitched a lot of ball for the Athletics in 1946 and 48 treated them to some real Hawaiian hospitality. . . Jack inquired about the weather, telling us that he is in swimming every day. . . Last week's game was the first in which coach Wally Milligan had failed to score a goal for United. . .

United, All-Stars Meet In Benefit Game Dec. 9

Tentative date for the benefit soccer match between Victoria United and the Victoria and District League All-Stars in aid of Einar Flaaten, injured United forward, has been set for Dec. 9.

United president George Eade said today Flaaten's condition was still serious. The young Norwegian was injured in Saturday's Coast Soccer League match between Victoria United and Vancouver City. The injury was diagnosed as a bruised kidney.

Maurice Speller, secretary of the referees' association, has informed Eade that the association will donate its services for this benefit game and all benefit games staged by United.

This Saturday United will close out its first-half schedule, meeting St. Andrews at Athletic Park. One point behind the leading North Shore Reds, United must again win to retain a chance of capturing the first-half title. North Shore will be idle.

SCOTS LINEUP
St. Andrews will field their usually powerful squad with Wes Henderson, Nick Glover and Don Matheson back as a unit on the half line.

Bob Newbold will be in goal with coach John Webber and Gerry Ponske at fullback and Bill Lewis, Andy Menyes, Neil McKechnie, George Steele and Wally Novak on the forward line. Spares are John Winning, Erv Matlock and Jack Jones.

Russell Cup Rugger Fever Hits Schools

Lined up four deep, this crowd of Victoria High School rooters shouted themselves hoarse at Windsor Park Wednesday as their school met rival Oak Bay High in first game of the annual Russell Cup rugby series. On the other side of the field was an equal number of Oak Bay rooters and the opposing factions worked just as hard as the players although in a less bruising way. The cheering sections must have finished in a dead heat because that was the way the game finished, 0-0. Second game is scheduled for Vic High Monday.

Dunc Fisher In Hat Trick For Bruins

By CANADIAN PRESS

A shifty young rightwinger enjoyed the best night of his National Hockey League career last night, and all at the expense of his former teammates.

Dunc Fisher, a 24-year-old product of Regina, spent two seasons with New York Rangers, before he was traded to Boston Bruins last year.

And last night—the 165-pound winger personally accounted for all Boston goals as the Bruins battled to a 3-3 deadlock with Rangers in New York.

Toronto whipped Chicago 5-1 in the league's other game.

SCORING UNIT CLICKS

The second-place Leafs, snapping out of a scoring slump, were paced by the No. 1 combination of Ted Kennedy, Sid Smith and Tod Sloan. That combination counted 79 goals in the regular schedule last year. Last night each got one.

The win brought Toronto to within five points of the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings.

Summaries follow:

CHICAGO 1, TORONTO 5
First period—1. Toronto, Kennedy (Smith, Fleming) 19:21. Penalties, Thomson 6:47, Fogelin 12:29, Gadsby 18:11.
Second period—2. Toronto, Sloan (Smith) 12:35. Penalties, Gadsby 5:42, Sloan 13:01, Fleming 15:52.
Third period—3. Toronto, Watson (Merkley, Gardner) 18:4. Toronto, Smith (Kennedy) 7:14, Sloan (Martin, Gaudin) 12:27, 6. Toronto, Lawicki (Klukay, Holton) 18:17. Penalties, Lumley (served by Horek) 7:08.

BOSTON 3, NEW YORK 3
First period—1. Boston, Fisher (Gull, Jan) 6:34. Penalty, Henderson 10:15.
Second period—2. New York, Dukerson (Bjovinski, Raleigh) 2:48. Penalties, none.
Third period—3. Boston, Fisher (Kyle) 2:25, 4. New York, Bjovinski (Raleigh) 2:49, 5. Boston, Fisher (Lynn, Barry) 8:03, 6. New York, Ronty (Bjovinski, Hergesheimer) 15:05. Penalties, Kyle 12:16 and 16:42, LaPrade 16:42, Evans 17:58.

Groans echo through the halls of Oak Bay and Victoria High Schools, groans of frustration and pain. Liniment bottles are standard equipment and the band-aids stretch as far as the eye can see.

It's Howard Russell Cup time again and nobody knows it better than the Vic High and Oak Bay players who battered their way to a 0-0 tie Wednesday at Windsor Park in the first game of the win-or-perish series.

For the last 20 years, it has been a custom for the players from the rival institutions to save most of their stamina for this series but on Wednesday, it was sheer mayhem.

The game started with all the pomp, color and ceremony of a New Year's Day bowl game. Vic High had a car parade of over 50 vehicles and even principal Harry Smith had his car bedecked with tassels and banners. Cheering sections exhorted, students screamed and rival coaches chewed their nails to the quick.

BIG THREE

At half time, Bert Butler, ex-coach of J.B.A.A. Sid Gaunt, recently named McKechnie Cup coach, and Joe Andrews, Vic High coach, were a talkative triumvirate as they tried to rally the Fernwood squad.

The Bays' game consisted mainly of kicking to touch and taking advantage of the Fernwood squad's errors while Vic High continually tried to crash through the Oak Bay defense by determined plungers, but neither team was successful in their style of play.

The tackling was rough, determined and sometimes sadistic as both teams ruthlessly refused to give ground.

THOW BANISHED
Ten minutes after half time Vic High's scrum captain Lynn Thow was thrown out of the game after a controversy with the referee. This proved a great loss to the V.H.S. squad as they were left without a practised kicker which might have been the deciding factor in the game.

Oak Bay also seemed to have difficulty with penalty kicks, missing two throughout the rugged contest.

One Oak Bay player was taken off the field after receiving injuries and nearly every player on the field suffered either shin hacks, cut lips or numerous body bruises.

GAME MONDAY
The three-game series will now go the complete distance with the next game Monday at Vic High's home battle grounds and the third game back at Windsor Park Nov. 30.

Monday's game promises to be a duplicate of Wednesday's play with burning school spirit, tremendous play and screaming supporters.

Vic High's team is reported to still be in good strength except for slight injuries while Oak Bay's condition is unknown.

Line-ups:
Oak Bay High: Miller, Cross, Urwin, Bowers, Ferguson, Derry, Simpson, Hurley, Dick, Sharp, McKechnie, Henderson, Victoria High: Whan, Ash, Clark, Donahue, Kennell, Bishop, Skillings, Tucker, Parker, Shearing, Ward, Pierce, Collinson, Shields, Thow.

FIGHT RESULTS
By the Associated Press
NEW YORK (St. Nicholas Arena) — Jimmy Bivins, 181 lb., Cleveland, outpointed Chuck De Witt, 180 lb., Mahwah, N.J. (10).

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Sonny Luciano, 139, Paterson, N.J., outpointed Bud Alderson, 141, Canonsburg, Pa. (10).

The least that you could say for Royal Roads is that they played magnificent football—that is putting it mildly. As for the Gobblins, they had trouble keeping out of their own way.

To make matters worse, the cadets rested many of their regulars and used their second and third stringers in whipping the Gobblins 20-1.

It remains for Gobblins to pile up four quick touchdowns early in the game if they want to prevent the classy cadets from carrying off their second successive city crown.

Ornest Key Target In Commercial Ice Action

Civil Service and Victoria Merchants of the Commercial Hockey League turned back a page in hockey history when they met at the arena Wednesday night.

They went back to the days where men were men, a stick was a weapon and the puck was a necessary evil. It was slam-bang hockey and anyone who did not keep his head up was in danger of getting it chopped off, as Merchants carved out a 2-1 win.

Servants, holding a territorial margin, went into a 1-0 lead in the first period when Al Smith found the net from a scramble at 6:42.

Merchants rallied strongly and little Connie McBeth tied it up with a picture goal at 11:42 of the second frame. Then all manner of Hades broke loose.

TEAM CANDIDATES NAMED

Sid Gaunt To Coach McKechnie Cup Side

The leadership of Crimson Tide rugby team this season will be in the hands of Sid Gaunt, Campbell Forbes and Keith Macdonald.

These three were selected as coach, manager and assistant coach, for the McKechnie Cup rugby series at the Victoria Rugby Union weekly meeting on Wednesday.

Victoria's rep team will play its first game being Boxing Day against University of British Columbia Thunderbirds. There have been 32 players selected by team delegates for Gaunt and Macdonald to choose from, and a game between these candidates will probably be played in the near future.

Players recommended by the coaches of Crusaders, Wanderers, J.E.A.A. and Victoria College, follow:

Forwards—E. Bourke, H. Turner, J. Poole, D. Macintosh, S. Powell, D. Willis, K. Macdonald, J. Mills, B. Shipley, C. Blythe, J. Bigelow, D. Taylor, J. Jeffries, A. Richardson, D. Powell and R. Mooney.

Backs—R. Ellis, G. Webster, M. Anderson, A. Hicks, D. Cook, R. Calton, G. Pynn, R. Hansen, J. Gibbs, W. Young, D. Hales, H. Burnett, L. Prevost, T. Ward, D. Stead and V. Allan.

Coleman's Column

By JIM COLEMAN

OTTAWA—In a rare fit of piety, on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 11, your correspondent wrote the following deathless paragraph: "As of this moment, if you can catch the attention of a benevolent bookmaker who is willing to lay you a price of five-to-one, take a ticket on the Regina Roughriders to represent Western Canada in November's Grey Cup final. And, if you can grab him before he totters away, counting his potential profits, bet him that Ottawa Roughriders or Montreal Alouettes will represent Eastern Canada in that same Dominion championship game."

Coleman

Panting slightly but hot on the scent of a new bankroll, your correspondent then predicted that the Regina Roughriders would win the Grey Cup. Od's swish—imagine a sports scribe being even two-thirds correct in his prognostications. That Montreal Alouettes business is a bit embarrassing, of course, but how were we to know that George Ratterman was going to be the most overpaid player in the history of Canadian football?

Ottawa Is Ottawa's Worst Enemy

Precedent is on the side of the Reginas—in the modern era the Ottawas never have managed to beat a Western Canadian team in the Grey Cup final.

Invariably, some unfortunate gentleman in an Ottawa uniform assists the western cause. It was Orville Burke who fumbled in 1939 and Les Lear picked up the ball. Then, Art Stevenson kicked the winning point for Winnipeg. In 1941 it was Burke who again fumbled at a critical juncture when hit on the throat by Bernie Thornton. Winnipeg won that one too.

It is scarcely necessary to refer to 1948—the Ottawa rooters still are showing their scar-tissue, memories of the wounds suffered that afternoon. Yes—and Mr. Karpuk still is with us and undoubtedly he is plotting some new mischief for next Saturday.

How can you compare Ottawa and Regina—two teams which have been playing in different leagues? Well, you'll have to take our word for it that they have one common weakness in forward-pass defense. On Saturday, the Ottawas came up with a defense that was slightly reminiscent of spaghetti revolving as it comes out of the can.

The last time we saw the Reginas in action, the Winniepegs were completing passes regularly over Del Warden's head. And, Warden guards that very territory where Howie Turner loves to take those long heaves from Tom O'Malley.

Who Will Get There First?

Ottawa has an edge in manpower and Ottawa has the better running game. Regina should have the advantage in the kicking and the passing so long as Glenn Dobbs' corsets hold him together.

Let us face the fact that none of the eastern teams has that potential scoring-threat which featured the play of Toronto Argonauts a year ago. The Argonauts were quite capable of breaking loose and scoring from a range of 65 or 70 yards. The Ottawas get there—but they travel in less spectacular fashion.

Regina has experienced more than its share of serious injuries but their mercenaries are recovering and their Old Pros should have "just one more big one" left in their systems. Easterners remember the stories of how Chuck Anderson's knee was in such bad shape that the Calgary ducks were going to cut him off at the hips just before the Grey Cup final of 1948. Yeah—and then he came out Saturday afternoon and tackled every one except Referee Hec Crighton.

Face The Facts—It's Regina

They say that Jack Russell, of the Reginas, is hobbling around on the stumps of his legs but they aren't going to fool us a second time—we won't believe it until we see him in a hospital cot.

Field conditions? Well, a radical change in the field conditions before Saturday shouldn't give much of an advantage to either team. Both are equipped with good kickers and big, fast linemen. Dobbs and O'Malley both can pass a wet ball with commendable accuracy.

Why are we spending all this time beating around the bush? We might as well come right out with it and say that Regina will win by 10 points—then run for the nearest exit. After all, we have to be right one year.

Trapp Tech To Meet Totems

Friday night at 8:15 the V.H.S. Totems will play host to the powerful Trapp Technical cage squad of New Westminster at the High School gym.

Trapp beat South Burnaby, 48-40, in a previous contest while the Totems, who played the Burnaby squad in Vancouver two weeks ago when they were still unsure of their teamwork, lost by a close 40-39 score.

The Trapp Tech starting line-up will be 6' 2" Stan Cowie and 6' 3" Tom Bell as guards, Mac Skinner 5' 11" and Hardy Sullivan 5' 11" as forwards, with the centre spot being worked by 6' 2" Aubrey Davis.

A preliminary contest between the Totem "B's" and Esquimalt will start at 7.

The Majorettes, brass band and cheer leaders will be out in full strength to add interest to the contests.

HAWAII'S GREATEST GIFT to mankind, the hula dancer, will be featured at the exhibition basketball game between Victoria Individuals and the touring Hawaiian All-Stars at Vic High gym Saturday night. Besides a flashy hoop team, the Hawaiians carry a revue of Aloha maids who perform their dances attired in grass skirts to the tune of guitars played by members of the team.

Capital Hepped Up Over Riders

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—It hasn't been the fashion in the past for the capital to fuss about its Rough Riders departing for the football wars. This year's eastern Canada champions, however, have found particular favor with Ottawa's football faithful and a razzle-dazzle sendoff is scheduled for this afternoon.

The Ottawa junior board of trade is behind the big football cavalcade which will see off the Riders to Toronto and the Grey

SEIXAS, ROSE IN NET FINAL

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 22 (AP).—Vic Seixas of Philadelphia whipped Frank Sedgman, Australia's No. 1 player, in the semifinals today of the New South Wales tennis tourney. The scores were 8-6, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

In turning the tables on the man who beat him in the finals of the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills last September, Seixas outlasted the Australian in the match that lasted an hour and 50 minutes.

A crowd of 10,000 saw the struggle. Mervyn Rose, of Australia, went five sets to beat Ted Schroeder, of the U.S., in the other semifinal, 7-9, 7-5, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Brentwood Scene Of Shuttle Meet

The annual Saanich Badminton Tournament will be held at the Brentwood Hall, from Nov. 26 to Dec. 1, inclusive.

George Lane, three-time winner of both the Saanich and Victoria City tournaments, will defend his titles in the men's open singles and the men's doubles championships. In the doubles Lane will team up with Rom Knott.

Mrs. H. MacDonald will team up with Mrs. R. Knott in the ladies' doubles, and George Lane in the mixed doubles. Juniors defending their titles this year are Geoff Conway and Danny Francis.

Defending ladies' singles champion, Mrs. Karen Jorgensen, will be out of town for the tourney.

Entries should be mailed to Mrs. P. Salmon, 945 Delwood Street, not later than Nov. 25.

Six Players On Shelf; Flyers, Rockets Bounced

New Westminster 5, Edmonton 2
Seattle 8, Tacoma 4

Add four more New Westminster Royals players to the Pacific Coast Hockey League casualty list, please.

Royals were the winners Wednesday night, downing Edmonton Flyers 5-2, but owner Ken Mackenzie was a mighty unhappy man.

After taking stock, he announced Ken Ullyot and Amy Dufault had been joined on the invalid list by forwards Don Slater, Ollie Dorohoy and Gerry Cabana and defenseman Roger Roberge.

And Slater will be out at least six weeks. He received a fractured right ankle when he slid into the end boards after scoring Royals' fifth goal.

Cabana received a cut vein above his right ankle, good for 10 days inactivity, and the high-scoring Dorohoy took a seventh-stitch gash on the back of his head.

Roberge's injury is a cut blood vessel in his back but he, like the high-scoring Dorohoy, should be ready for action again by Friday when the Royals meet the Cougars here.

New Westminster needed to win to protect its two-point first-place lead over Seattle Ironmen, who trimmed Tacoma Rockets 8-4 at Seattle.

SECOND LOSS

Flyers, dropping their second straight game on the coast, got their two goals with Doug McCaig and Frank Kubbek.

Other New Westminster scorers were Bob Paul, with two, Guyle Fielder and Blinky Boyce. Fielder—who celebrated his 21st birthday Tuesday—also gathered two assists.

Joe Bell's three-goal performance sparked Seattle Ironmen. He earned an additional point for an assist.

Koski Sets Possible Hoop Scoring Mark

V.H.S. Oak Bay and Mount View came out on top in games in the Inter-High Junior Girls' Basketball League Wednesday.

Vic High Girls trounced S. J. Willis 44-13. Oak Bay flogged Central Junior High 26-9, and Vic High Blounts edged Esquimalt 20-18.

Bev Koski of Golds scored 24 points and set what is believed to be a record for junior basketball play. Mount View, with its win over Mount Douglas, held intact a two-point lead in the eight-team race.

Jackie Ormond paced Mount View with 17 points.

Central, playing its first game of the season, was trampled by the powerful Oak Bay machine.

Contractor Removed From 'Unfair' List

Painting firm of C. Schattner has been taken off the unfair list of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council. The action was taken by council Wednesday night after Donald Bushell, business agent for Local 1163 of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers Union, reported the contractor recently had signed an agreement covering his employees.

Arena Official's Appointment Defended Against Union Attack

Victoria Arena Commission will sit next Tuesday evening to thresh out with officials of the International Union of Operating Engineers the recent appointment of William Bridgewood as assistant to the manager. The union protested the appointment on grounds that Bridgewood, a former commission member, was not properly qualified for the job, and that, in any case, the job should have gone to an arena employee.

The matter of Bridgewood's appointment came up again Wednesday night at a meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (T.L.C.). The council two weeks ago wrote the commission, supporting the engineers, and asking that Bridgewood be suspended until the matter was cleared up.

H. W. Davey, arena commission counsel, informed the labor council by letter that its request for a suspension would not be allowed. Davey declared Bridgewood was appointed as assistant to the manager and although he was discharging duties which at one time were intended for the building supervisor (a union man), he was carrying out a number of other duties pertaining to general administration.

Sportsmen Plan Game Trail Meal

The first annual game banquet—featuring meat from the game trails—will be held by the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association at the Goldstream flats clubhouse Saturday night. Among the invited guests who will attend are Game Commissioner Frank Butler, a high forestry official and others. Tickets can be secured from Bruce Winsby, secretary, at the Cormorant-Douglas branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"The commission believes it is entitled to employ Mr. Bridgewood in the capacity under the terms of the collective agreement," Davey's letter stated.

Concerning a council protest with regard to the manner in which Bridgewood was appointed, Davey continued:

"We must in the interests of efficiency and the city and the patrons reserve the right to appoint the best man to any position which is open and choose such method of settlement as seems best under the circumstances. In making such appointments we always keep in mind the possibility of promotion and the qualification of employees."

Blacks, Oak Bay In Zero Battle

Vic High Blacks and Oak Bay failed to break a first-place deadlock in the Inter-High Junior Rugby League when they fought to a scoreless tie at Victoria High Tuesday.

Harrison played outstanding ball for Vic High, while the suburbanites showed fine form in the scrum.

Blacks have one game left with Esquimalt while Oak Bay has two games with Esquimalt and V.H.S. Golds.

U.S. Training Ship Will Call Saturday

Another U.S. Navy reserve training ship will call at Victoria Saturday in the course of a week-end cruise.

The U.S.S. Charles E. Brannon, commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. E. L. Converse, will dock at Esquimalt Saturday afternoon and stay until Sunday morning. The ship will bring 17 officers and 187 men.

APPENDIX OPERATION PREVENTS GOV. WARREN KEEPING GRID DATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22 (UP).—Governor Earl Warren of California said today his appendix operation will prevent him from seeing the California-Stanford "big game" for the first time in 43 years.

Warren, 60, underwent an appendectomy Wednesday at University of California Hospital where he has been hospitalized since last Friday for an "acute intestinal disturbance."

The hospital said his condition was "good" and that he is "coming along fine." Warren recently announced he will seek the G.O.P. nomination for President.

Labor Favors Dairyman's Subsidy

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council again considered the question of subsidizing milk at its meeting Wednesday night, and although the usual arguments were raised by those against subsidization, the proposal was given backing by a strong majority.

S. H. Fairbanks, of the Laborers' Union, championed the subsidization plan.

"We should use a little bit of common sense and a little bit of sympathy for the dairy farmer," Fairbanks said. "If we don't watch out and if we let things go, we'll soon have no milk at all."

Because of debt, he said, dairy farmers all across the country are disposing of their herds and quitting the business.

While council voted for the provincial government to continue to regulate milk prices, by subsidy if necessary, Fairbanks argued the matter should be regulated by federal authorities.

"This is a nation-wide problem," he contended. "It's got to go right to Ottawa."

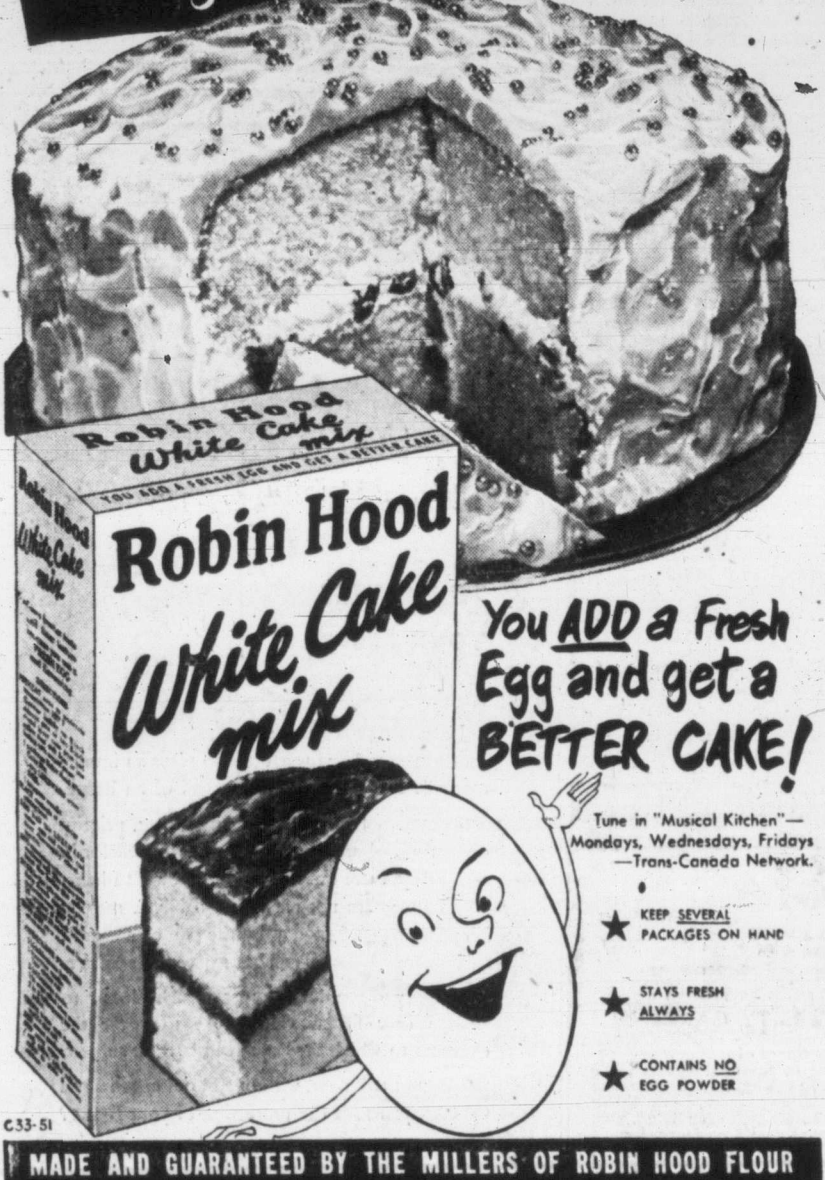

Council also voted support to a resolution urging the provincial government to see that milk is not reduced in quality or adulterated in any way.

This resolution was to put the council on record with regard to a recent court case in which a dairyman was charged for having sold milk with too high a butterfat content.

Council agreed to go into the whole question of milk prices and milk distribution at its next meeting in December.

PRAIRIE ROUNDUP

MacKay Wins Calgary Election In Landslide

CALGARY, Nov. 22 (CP)—Mayor Donald H. MacKay was swept back into office here Wednesday with the greatest majority ever accorded a Calgary mayor.

The rotund mayor with the wide grin and a 10-gallon hat as his trade mark, polled 26,974 votes to 4,901 for his opponent Gordon H. Wray. His majority was 22,073. The final result became known shortly before midnight.

Both men were independents. Wray admitted nomination day he only ran against the mayor because "acclamations were undemocratic." At that, the mayor's opponent, who has strong Socialist leanings, polled more votes than was expected.

Prior to the landslide majority accorded Mayor MacKay, the greatest majority given a mayor here was 16,296. It was in 1931, that Andrew Davison steam-rollered to victory over his Communist-sponsored opponent, Philip Luck. The count then was 17,324 for Davison and 1,028 for Luck.

Balloting for the majority was no better than average. There were 87,550 eligible to vote. Only 31,875 voted for a chief magistrate. It was expected there would be greater balloting for the aldermanic posts, of which there are six, with 14 candidates seeking them.

"Speedwriting" at Sprott-Shaw School

James H. Beatty

J. H. Beatty, president of Sprott-Shaw School in Victoria, announces the opening of courses in "Speedwriting" for which Sprott-Shaw has the exclusive franchise on Vancouver Island.

These courses, conducted both by day and evening, are under the direction of Mrs. Rita Phillips, B.A., P.C.T., G.C.T. Mrs. Phillips, as a member of the Sprott-Shaw School Staff, took a teacher's training course at the headquarters of the Speedwriting Institute in New York.

Designed for the use of business men, lawyers, reporters, all those whose work requires the taking of copious notes, this fascinating course is finding ready acceptance in Victoria.

Mr. Beatty is astounded at the interest and enthusiasm generated in the first class and is highly pleased with the results the students are getting from their course. He states that Speedwriting has a definite place as a shorthand in the business world, and from the results he has seen of the new revised course, he is confident that Speedwriting is a good intermediate type of shorthand.

Students can gain a speed of upwards to 120 w.p.m. in from 6 to 8 weeks at Day School and 16 weeks at Night School, two evenings a week. Particulars may be had by phoning Sprott-Shaw School, 1012 Douglas St., G-8121.

A Free Demonstration will be held at the School on Monday, Nov. 26, at 8 p.m.

Cut out the recipe now. Or get it on Kellogg's All-Bran box at your grocer's.

Offer U.S. Wine Under B.C. Label

California Companies Willing To Ship Bulk For Bottling And Branding In Province

Charles M. Nelles, Victoria agent of a California wine company revealed today that Californian wine has been offered in bulk to three B.C. wineries to enable them to bottle it under their own brand names.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

First candidate in Dec. 13 civic election to file nomination papers is Harry Haigh, 845 Balmoral Road, who will run for the mayoralty. Listing himself as a retired businessman, Haigh gave his declaration Wednesday afternoon to City Clerk Frank Hunter at City Hall. His proposer is C. R. Flitton, 402 Wilson Street and his second, George Allan, 2527 Dalhousie Street.

Walter S. Kirkpatrick, 3745 Cadboro Bay Road, has been appointed a Justice of the Peace. Kirkpatrick, a resident of Victoria for the past 17 years, is first vice-president of the Laurier Club.

Somewhere, someone is breathing easier. G. A. Yardley, Collector of Customs and Excise, reports receipt of $19.50 "consignment" money.

City Council's parks committee today inspected facilities of the S.P.C.A. and city pound, prior to discussing a proposal of the S.P.C.A. to amalgamate the facilities, under its operation.

Caught driving without 1951 drivers' licenses, two motorists were fined in city police court today.

Alfred James Hunt, 3404 Doncaster, was fined $30, and James Friedlander, 2424 Wark, was fined $25. They pleaded guilty.

Ottawa Gets B.C. Request On Indians

British Columbia's formal request to allow Indians liquor privileges has been received in Ottawa.

The request is for a proclamation invoking "Section 95" of the Indian Act, which will make it possible for Indians to enter beer parlors and liquor clubs.

At present only Indians who are no longer wards of the government and have become full Canadian citizens are able to purchase liquor. No liquor is allowed on reservations.

If the request is granted, 27,000 B.C. Indians will be affected. Labor Minister John Cates, who is in charge of Indian affairs in B.C., said the request was made after a careful study.

Local Chinese Plan Meeting On 'Red Notes'

The problem facing many Chinese families here with regard to letters asking them to send money to Hong Kong for the ransom and safeguard of the relatives in Red China, will be discussed at a Victoria Chinese Benevolent Society meeting on Tuesday of next week, it was learned today from C. P. Yee, president.

Yee said the letters asking for money were on the increase and were worrying a considerable number of people in Victoria. Commenting on a report that an 80-year-old man had committed suicide because he was unable to raise funds for release of his wife in China, Yee said he did not know of anyone in Victoria who had killed himself for that reason.

Victoria city police also reported they did not know of any Chinese who committed suicide due to extortion letters.

150 Youngsters To Take Part In H.B.C. Show

An orphan in search of Santa Claus.

That is the theme of the Hudson's Bay Company's annual Christmas concert scheduled at the Royal Theatre Dec. 1, 8 and 15.

The concert will feature 150 youngsters from the Florence Clough dancing school. The production will present eight-year-old Sharon Kirk as the orphan, Frances Rigby as the Fairy Queen, Judy MacCormac as the Spirit of Christmas, and Gary Smele as Santa's head worker.

There will be two shows daily, at 9:30 and 11, and proceeds from the musical will go to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Tickets will go on sale Monday at a special booth on the fourth floor of the Hudson's Bay Company.

JOB UNFINISHED

Lone Lady Alderman Will Run

Ald. Margaret Christie, now completing her seventh year on City Council, announced today she will seek re-election next month. She is only woman on Council.

ALD. CHRISTIE

Chairman of the city's health and welfare committee for seven years and of Union Board of Health for four, Ald. Christie headed the aldermanic poll when she ran two years ago.

She was largely responsible for establishment of the inter-municipal Juvenile Detention Home and bought the Gorge Road Nursing Home on behalf of the city. "One of the main reasons for my running again is to press for the 100-bed hospital at the nursing home," Mrs. Christie said. Another aldermanic candidate is Brent Murdoch, young Victoria businessman and member of "the police commission. If elected he said he would hold both positions. He urged a "more progressive attitude toward economic and industrial development in Victoria" and said he would seek reduction of taxation through a more efficient administration.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE DILEMMA ARISES ON CHOICE FOR MAYOR

Earlier reports that Non-Partisan League might not back any mayoralty candidate this year, were discounted in semi-official quarters today.

"Not a chance," was the way one League official put it. The meeting in the Blackball Ferry Building at the "Causeway," tonight at 8, is expected to be a lively one. Rumors that N.P.L. would not back a candidate this year arose from the fact that both Aubrey Kent and Dr. J. D. Hunter, mayoral candidates, have been backed by the League. Hunter in 1950 was a N.P.L. aldermanic candidate while Kent was an N.P.L. mayoral candidate in 1949.

B.C. Dentist Shortage Causing 'Grave Concern'

Rural Areas Suffering Particularly Due To Lack Of Preventive Treatment

A shortage of dentists in British Columbia—especially in the rural areas—is causing "grave concern" among provincial government officials.

Dr. Frank McCombie, director of the division of preventive dentistry, said today the situation is bad and shows little sign of improving.

Last year there were 323 graduates from dental faculties in Canada, but in future years the figure will be more like 200. The reason is that most of the veterans who took up dentistry after the war are now completing their training.

CUT IN HALF

In British Columbia now there is one dentist to 2,039 persons. Officials would like to see that ratio cut in half.

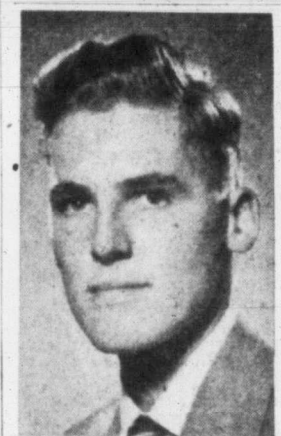

In addition to the problem of a reduction in graduates, health officials are facing continuing population increases which further aggravates the situation.

In the face of all this though, B.C. is only second to Ontario in its dentistry force.

A dental faculty at the University of B.C., which is being investigated, would help solve the problem, officials say. Graduates would be more likely to stay in this province to practise. Alberta, Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia now have dental faculties. Many B.C. dentistry students go there or to the United States.

However, even if all the B.C. men in training now returned to this province the problem would still be acute. Only 20 B.C. students will graduate from various universities next year, 18 in 1953 and only 11 in 1954.

MEMBERSHIP in the Architectural Institute of B.C. has been extended John W. Armour, 1715 Fairfield, who was a successful candidate in final institute examinations held recently. He has been associated for the last five years with the firm of Birley, Wade and Stockhill.

3 Election Gatherings Sponsored

Oratory will flow free and fast from now until the December civic and municipal elections.

Two meetings have been called for city candidates and one for Saanich, so far. City of Victoria will sponsor a meeting for all candidates, Dec. 10 at 8 in Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a public forum for mayoral candidates in lower ballroom of Crystal Garden, Dec. 6 at 7:45.

Saanich Council will sponsor a meeting Dec. 12 in Mount View High School for Saanich candidates.

No Sale Talk Planned For P.G.E. Parley

Premier Byron Johnson said today "under no circumstances will purchase of a Pacific Coast Eastern Railway be discussed at the Nov. 29 meeting of P.G.E. and Canadian National Railway officials."

The Premier was commenting on a newspaper report that sale of the P.G.E. line may be a subject for discussion at the parley. "I don't see how the terms of reference in my statement could have been made any clearer," he said.

He reiterated that the meeting will discuss joint use of physical property, inter-change of physical arrangements, and transfer of ownership of right-of-way occupied by the Hazelton-Prince Rupert Highway.

Four Hurt In Drunk Driving Accident Here

Four persons were injured in a Wednesday night city collision involving a drunken driver.

In city police court today Raphael Martin Ell, 51 Oswego, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving and was remanded to Friday for sentence.

This was the first charge of out-and-out drunken driving laid in city police court since the Criminal Code was amended to allow a charge of "impaired driving" due to alcohol to be laid against drivers who had been drinking.

Still in Jubilee Hospital are Charles Isaac, 17, of 1606 Speed; Verne Stables, 18, of 772 Cloverdale, and Floyd Barnes, 44, of 1414 Stanley. Their condition was reported good. Bill Paine, 17, of 44 Oswego, was released from hospital after treatment.

Police said the cars driven by Ell and Stables met in collision on Dallas Road opposite the Lookout at 10:50. Damage to both cars was heavy.

City May Close Ball Club Lease At Athletic Park

City of Victoria may take "first steps" toward foreclosure on Victoria Baseball & Athletic Co. lease of Royal Athletic Park if a city letter asking payment of $4,765 is not answered.

This was the opinion today of Mayor Percy George. "The lease has not been lived up to by the Athletics, since they owe us money," said the mayor. "That would make the lease null and void. I think we're in a position to close the lease now. But you've got to be reasonable."

Night lights and extra seating provided at the park would become the city's property in the event of foreclosure, the mayor said. Value has been placed in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Question has arisen if the baseball club franchise, now up for sale, is sold, would the new company get the balance of the lease from the city? The 10-year lease has another four years to run.

It is transferable only with the consent of the city.

There have been complaints in the past that the lease was not too favorable from the city's point of view. Question of whether it might be renegotiated should there be a new lessee has been raised.

"I feel the whole lease matter

Pig Business Big Business, Monkey Business Is Costly

A sum of $2,000 was awarded by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court Wednesday to Lee Chow, 534 Cormorant, in his civil suit against John L. Fisher of Happy Valley. The action involved breach of an agreement over a pig farming business.

Chow alleged in his suit that Fisher failed to carry out his part of an agreement for the establishment of a pig business. He also claimed that he lent money to Fisher which was used by the defendant to buy property for himself.

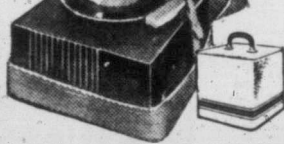

Evidence was also given by Chow's daughter, Mary Lee, who kept the books for the firm known as Fisher Co., that Fisher ignored their threats of a suit against him and told them that a Chinese could not win a case in court. R. D. Harvey, K.C., represented the plaintiff. Fisher, in a counter-claim, alleged that the Chinese had failed

Labor Joins In Fighting Racial Bias

Angry At Refusal Of Chinese To Dance

Victoria's two main labor bodies intend to move to stamp out racial discrimination.

The C.C.L.'s Victoria Labor Council got on the subject Wednesday night when delegates took up the matter of the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association refusing a young Chinese couple tickets to the recent police ball.

Council delegates were outraged by the police attitude and decided to write the association and to City Council "unreservedly condemning" the action.

At the same time, the T.L.C.'s Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council discussed racial discrimination in general, and voted to ask the Victoria Labor Council to set up a joint committee to deal with the matter.

A spokesman for the C.C.L. body indicated it would be only too glad to co-operate with the other labor council to combat discrimination based on creed and color differences.

Cost Of Chops Six Months In Jail Cell

DUNCAN—The price of meat was high for George Saunders, who will serve six months in jail for the theft of three veal chops, which is at the rate of two months a chop.

He was sentenced in police court Wednesday by Magistrate G. Tisdall when he pleaded guilty to theft of the meat from Mrs. J. Jenkinson in a taxi office.

Funeral Notice An emergent communication of Britannia Lodge, No. 73, A.F. & A.M., will be held at the Masonic Temple, Douglas and Fagard Streets, Friday, Nov. 23, 1951, at 2:15 p.m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Brother Edward Blue Blair. Members of sister lodges and visiting brethren in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the Worshipful Master, O. G. GREEN, P.M., Secretary.

Federal Aid For Forests

Ottawa To Assist In Financing Seeding, Taking Of Inventories

British Columbia will get financial aid from Ottawa for reforestation and the taking of forest inventories under an agreement to be signed in the near future, Lands and Forest Minister E. T. Kenney said today.

The provincial cabinet has given Kenney authority to enter into the agreement.

B.C. will probably get about $100,000 next year.

Under provisions of the Dominion Forestry Act, passed last year, Ottawa will pay the province 25 per cent of the cost of reforestation on Crown lands, and 50 per cent of the cost of compiling forest inventories.

The latter is simply a taking of stock in the woods—speeded up greatly in recent years through the use of aerial photography.

The payments will be based on an average of costs over recent years.

There is a possibility Ottawa will make a contribution to cover this year also.

Kenney and his deputy, Dr. C. D. Orchard, have made several trips to Ottawa to negotiate the arrangements.

Kenney is pressing Ottawa to match B.C. "dollar-for-dollar" on forest protection which includes fire fighting and insect control. The proposal is being considered.

City police took William R. Olson, 20, to Jubilee Hospital on Wednesday night to be treated for ankle injuries suffered in a hockey game at Memorial Arena. He is a member of the T.U.P. team, which was playing against Army.

MILK BOARD'S PROTECTION STILL WANTED

The Milk Drivers' Union (T.L.C.) is opposed to abolition of B.C. Milk Board, according to president Robert McCulloch.

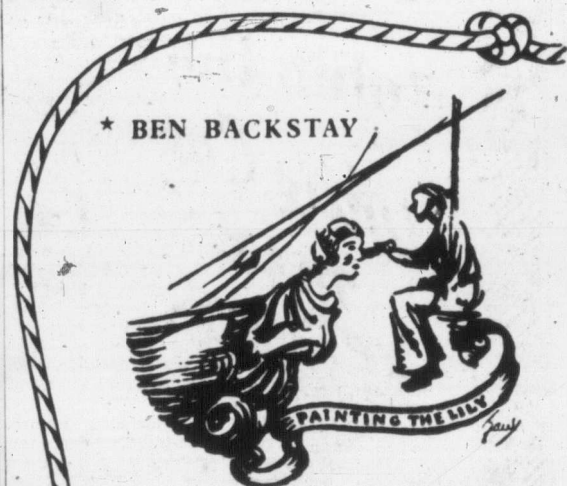

Pre-war economic pressures on farmers would return if the board was wiped out, McCulloch said.

"For future protection of the farmer it is more necessary than ever," he stated.

Teamsters' Union Wins Wage Boost Of $27 Monthly

Wage increase of $27 a month has been won by the General Teamsters' Union (T.L.C.) for employees of two Victoria food wholesale warehouses.

Bob Milligen, union spokesman, announced Wednesday night contracts providing for such a pay boost have been signed with Macdonalds Consolidated Ltd. and W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. The agreements also provide for a 40-hour work week.

Let's Eavesdrop On Susie And Julie For A Bargain

By PENNY SAVER

"Punkie Doodle" is the newest word amongst the fashion-conscious little girls in town.

Susie Smith says to Julie Jones: "My mummy always buys me 'Punkie Doodle' dresses. They are so pretty and have panties to match."

Julie, wide eyed with interest asks, "Do they have little flowers on them?"

"Yes," replies Susie very knowingly. "Mummy calls it 'em-bordie'."

And so the conversation went between the two best-dressed little ladies on the block.

Now when Susie's mummy talks to Julie's mummy at a tea a couple of days later we learn that "Punkie Doodle" is just as popular with the mothers as the little girls.

Mrs. Jones opened the conversation by asking Mrs. Smith, "What are these adorable dresses you have for Susie?" Julie came home the other day just bursting with excitement about them?

"Oh, yes, Mrs. Jones, I meant to phone you and tell you about this wonderful buy," said Mrs. Smith. "They really are sweet little dresses and they are only charging $2.55 for them and the matching panties."

She continued: "These little dresses are made of an interwoven cotton and are ideal for Susie under her winter coat. And, of course, the fact that they don't need ironing appeals to me, too."

"Why, they sound wonderful," chirped Mrs. Jones. "I must go to town tomorrow and get a couple for Julie. I can see there will be no peace until I do now that Julie has spotted Susie's 'Punkie Doodle' dress."

man of the discussion entitled, "Education in British Columbia." Members of the panel were Mesdames A. J. Butterfield, K. O. Wright, T. B. Williams, Misses E. Cameron, M. James and M. Clay.

Point of discussion was to see how far the recommendations in this report are being carried out in the British Columbia education system.

Mrs. Butterfield expressed her views on basic education; Mrs. Wright, the question of public relations between schools and general public; Mrs. Williams, guidance, counselling and placement of students in employment as typified at Victoria High School; Miss Cameron, status of teachers; Miss James, program in elementary schools, and Miss Clay, point of view of the employer.

The panel members brought several outstanding facts to the attention of the meeting.

Mrs. Butterfield felt that the report didn't solve problems of teaching the three "R's" but Mrs. Wright thought that the bringing of teachers and parents together had beneficial effects.

Mrs. Williams was in favor of the present system of guidance which aided in making students good citizens. Miss James pointed out that the controversy was mostly in the secondary schools and that the elementary schools were in good condition.

The disadvantages of teaching were brought to light by Miss Cameron and Miss Clay praised the counselling for employment system in the schools.

Mrs. J. F. K. English presided and Mrs. R. Wood was appointed to plan an entertainment for the Christmas meeting and guest night, Dec. 19 at 8.

Five Hundred—Plans for the annual five hundred party on Nov. 30 were made at meeting of Salt Spring Island Catholic Women's League at the home of the president, Mrs. R. T. Britton, Vesuvius Bay. Mrs. E. G. J. Brenton is convener. Afternoon tea hostesses were Mrs. Alexander, Marcotte and Mrs. A. E. Marcotte.

Be Brave About Sponge Cakes. You can be sure of tempting beauties that are tender, delicate, zephyr-light... if you make them with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You see, Swans Down is sifted and re-sifted until it is 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Makes better cakes — always.

ORANGE WASHINGTON PIE
1 cup sifted Swans Down 1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup Cake Flour 1 egg
1 tsp. Calumet Baking 1 cup sugar
Powder 2 tps. lemon juice
8 tps. hot milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt; sift together three times. Beat eggs until very thick and light (10 minutes). Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time. Add milk, mixing quickly and thoroughly until batter is blended. Turn into two 8-inch layer pans which have been greased very lightly on bottoms. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 20 to 25 minutes. When cake is cool, spread an orange filling between layers, top with whipped cream.

A MEAL FOOD EXPERTS COMMEND

Oven-baked beans go beautifully with hot brown bread...

Here is nourishment as appetizing and economical as any cook could devise. Everybody knows that beans have a high caloric content and when they are oven-baked by Heinz chefs and drenched with Heinz own Tomato Sauce, you have a hearty flavour treat at low cost. Heinz makes four kinds of oven-baked beans. Look for them all at your grocer's. Also note below recipes for a warming cold-weather feast!

RECIPE

"Dinner of the Week" may easily be your family's verdict, when you serve a deep dish of tender Heinz Oven-Baked Beans. Vary them from time to time — add a few dashes of Heinz 57 Sauce to give a special flavour — some Heinz Chili Sauce or Tomato Ketchup on other occasions. Again, stir in gently 1/2 cup diced processed cheese or add crisp bacon strips, and heat as usual in saucepan or baking dish. For a crisp topping if you heat your beans in a casserole, try a layer of big buttered crumbs over the dish and bake until hot and golden.

ALL-BRAN MOLASSES HOT-BREAD
Measure 1 cup ALL-BRAN, 1/2 cup raisins, 2 tbs. shortening, and 1/2 cup molasses into bowl. Add 3/4 cup hot water, stir till shortening melts. Add 1 egg and 1/2 tsp. salt. Sift together 1 cup sifted flour, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. cinnamon; add to ALL-BRAN mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill 2 greased Heinz Oven-Baked Bean tins 3/4 full. Bake in preheated mod. oven (350F.) 45 min. Yield: 2 loaves. Or use 8 x 8-in. pan. Bake in mod. oven 35 min. Yield: 1 loaf. Serve at once.

Debutantes To Receive Government House Gifts

Creating an added touch of excitement for the bevy of 15 attractive young debutantes who will be presented to capital city society tomorrow evening at the United Services Ball, will be the gift of a compact for each young lady from his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace.

The compacts will be engraved with the following words: "Best wishes from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia and Mrs. Wallace."

Presentation of debutantes will take place in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel at 9.30, following arrival of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace, who will be accompanied by Wing-Comdr. J. D. D. Campbell, as aide-de-camp, and Miss Ruth MacLean.

The Government House party will stand on the far side of the ballroom. Debutantes, their sponsors and escorts will enter from the Palm room through wide-opened glass doors guarded by uniformed commissionaires.

The debutantes and sponsors will proceed along a red-carpeted aisle to Wing-Comdr. Campbell where they will present small white cards bearing their names. In turn Wing-Comdr. Campbell will present the names to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace.

In a receiving line close by will be Sqdn. Ldr. A. W. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Group Capt. J. B. Millward and Mrs. Millward, Col. A. Peron and Mrs. Peron, and Col. C. W. Devey and Mrs. Devey. Lt.-Col. Nelson Gibson is in charge of all arrangements.

Parties Prior To The Ball

Several parties have been arranged to honor the debutantes with their escorts, prior to the ball tomorrow evening at which they will be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace.

Miss Elizabeth Creery, who is one of the debutantes, will entertain at a dinner party at Admiral's House.

Those present will be Misses Diana Elkington, Barbara Rose, Janet Henderson, Sally McCarter, Susan Burton, Sally Laundry, Margot Young, Yvonne Girard and Mr. William Hall, Mr. Christopher Seymour, Mr. Christopher Smith, Mr. Jack Betts, Mr. Fraser Isbister, Mr. Arthur Griffin, Mr. John Booth, Mr. Charles Ferguson and Mr. Don Kidd.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carmichael will entertain with a dinner party at their home on St. Denis Street, in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Nancy Carmichael. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Eric Burton, Mrs. M. Coultas, Mr. Gerald Coultas, Col. R. Stone, also a trio of debutantes, Misses Joan Pidgeon, Joan Bella and Anne Buckle and Mr. Alan Wilson, Mr. Allen English and Mr. Robert Haldane.

Sunday Luncheon For Debs

Miss Sally McCarter, one of the debutantes who will make her formal bow to society at the annual United Services Ball at the Empress Hotel on Friday evening, will entertain at a luncheon at the Victoria Golf Club on Sunday. Guests will be the 14 other debs, the Misses Elizabeth Creery, Diana Elkington, Nancy Carmichael, Susan Burton, Joan Pidgeon, Heather Hughes, Alison Snape, Barbara Rose, Margot Young, Sally Laundry, Janet Henderson, Joan Bella, Anne Buckle, and Yvonne Girard.

Sisters Fly To Mexico

Mrs. Norma N. Macdonald, Mrs. Max Saelinger and Miss Frances Jordan left by plane Tuesday to attend the International Hotel Conference in Mexico City. En route they will visit in San Francisco and Los Angeles. From Mexico City they will fly to Miami via Havana to attend the American Hotel Association Conference. Continuing their journey by plane they will stop over in New York for a few days before returning home by way of Montreal and Vancouver.

Mrs. E. L. Mackenzie, Styles Street, has just returned from a four-week trip during which time she visited in Montreal, Boston and San Francisco.

Mrs. Arthur Cox and Miss Dianne Cox returned to Victoria at the week-end after spending several weeks traveling in the United States. Mrs. Cox left Victoria seven weeks ago going first to Toronto where she met Miss Cox who had completed internship as a dietitian at Toronto General Hospital. They traveled together to New York City, Mobile and New Orleans and Miss Cox later went on to visit relatives in Los Angeles and Martinez, Calif.

Victoria Musical Arts Society Gives Program Of Stirring Slavonic Music

By AUBREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Victoria Musical Arts Society, continuing its series of national programs, turned to the Slavonic peoples, Wednesday night, for the monthly concert in Memorial Hall.

Two groups presented by a vocal octette were features of the program. If anyone in the regrettably small audience failed to feel a stirring of the pulse during the singing of "Rustic Holiday" or "In the Fields," they surely need to look to their vitamins. There were several moments that brought this writer onto the edge of her chair.

The songs were those of the simple peasant, dealing with his loves and pleasures and his philosophies. The octette, consisting of Thelma Johns, Marion Campbell, Florence Smith, Iris Paver, Frank Spooner, Rodger Manning, John Bray and Harry Johns, did not sing with the full abandon of the Slav, perhaps, but there was such a unity of intention, such well-defined rhythm and enjoyment that the audience was quite carried away.

Each member of the group is a soloist so that the tonal texture evolved richly; but also the blend was unusually fine. The octette owes it to the public and themselves to present these songs again before a larger audience.

Dr. Roger Manning, who organized the presentation, and Edgar Holloway, accompanist, have a warm vote of thanks coming their way.

Soloists for this part of the program were John Bray, Thelma Johns, Dr. Johns and Marion Campbell.

It seems that every time one hears Patricia Shakespeare, she has added something to her stature as a musician. In two groups of piano solos, she appeared to have a finer lyric quality and command of color, while her technical mastery continues to grow.

Marie Milburn, with Malcolm Hamilton, played the Finale from Rubinstein's violin Sonata in G. A gifted and musically young violinist, Marie produces some lovely tone from her instrument and is technically well advanced. One has come to expect of Malcolm Hamilton, virtuosity in his role of supporting artist as well as of soloist. That expectation was once more justified last night.

TRACY, YOU'VE HAD MY HEARTED COOPERATION.

YOUR FUTURE IS AT STAKE IN THE THEFT OF THOSE VALUABLES, BUT MY LIFE'S REPUTATION IS IN THE BALANCE. I'VE BEEN POLICE CUSTODIAN 25 YEARS.

I—

LISTEN, CHARLIE, I WANT YOU TO PULL OUT ONE OF THE BOXES THAT HAS BEEN PULVERED, AND ONE THAT HASN'T.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

JUST TAKING A COUPLE OF PAINT SAMPLES.

YOUR AUNT WANTS YOU—SHE'S GOING TO SPANK YOU FOR STAYING OUT SO LONG.

OH, AUNT FRITZI—WOULD YOU MIND GIVING ME THAT SPANKING IN THE YARD?

WHY?

I'VE CHARGED A PENNY ADMISSION TO SEE IT.

THAT FUNNY PAPER THAT HAD SHEDLEY'S PITCHER IN IT—IF ONLY I COULD FIND THE REST OF THAT PAPER—

WHY?

WHY, TH' REST OF THAT 'FUNNY' HAD A PITCHER OF A LITTLE ORPHAN GIRL—

WHAT WAS HER NAME?

THAT'S IT—I CAN'T REMEMBER THAT, LESS I CAN FIND TH' REST OF THAT PAPER—

HAROLD GRAY

FOR GOODNESS SAKE, PRECISE—GO PUT A STOP TO THAT BEFORE WHOLE TEARS THE HOUSE DOWN.

ONE OF THE FIRST THINGS TO LEARN ABOUT MOS IS NOT TO WORRY WHEN THEY'RE NOISY, BUT WHEN THEY'RE QUIET.

CRASH!

HEY, MOM—THAT VASE ON YOUR DRESSING TABLE WASN'T ANY GOOD ANYWAY, WAS IT?

WELL, LOOKA HERE!—TH' VULTURES AIN'T LUNIN UP IN PUNT FAWMATION LE?

RECOVERED A WILDCAT FUMBLE ON THEIR OWN TWO-YARD LINE!

AND WITH A 10-YARD LEAD AND LESS THAN A MINUTE TO PLAY, THE VULTURES KILL TIME WITH THREE SMASHES AT THE LINE AND LOSE A YARD!

FOURTH AND ELEVEN TO GO ON THEIR ONE-YARD LINE!

BLOCK THAT KICK!

SOMETHING TELLS ME THOSE SMUGGLER RIFLES WERE SENT FROM SOMEWHERE RIGHT HERE IN PIKE'S LANDING.

DOES SOMETHING TELL YOU WHERE WE START LOOKIN'?

THIS TOWN'S GOT TWO FEED STORES, A LIVERY STABLE AND ONE FREIGHT OFFICE....

I GET IT...

WE'RE GONNA MOSEY AROUND 'TIL WE FIND OUT WHO'S BUYIN' UP LARGE ORDERS O' BALED HAY....

AND CHECK THE SHOPS FOR SMUGGLER RIFLES.

YOU'RE NOT LIKED YET, TAT TOO! SURE! EVEN IF I CAN'T YELL, I'VE STILL GOT AN OUT—ALL I GOTTA DO IS SHOOT OFF THIS ROD I LIFTED FROM THE COP—!

WHAT'S WRONG DOWN THERE? IT'S MY GLOVES! THEY'VE GOT FOULED UP IN THE FIRING MECHANISM OF THE GUN! I'LL WORK IT LOOSE—BUT—GOTTI DO IT FAST—!!

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

In a thicket at the lower end of the pond of Paddy the Beaver, standing in the midst of the Black Shadows where they had crowded together, were Mrs. Lightfoot and her twins. For their age those two young Deer were large. They had grown fast on good-living through the summer and the fall. They were six months old, but already they were more than half as big as their mother.

Now they were beginning to understand how little they did know, and that knowledge had been crowded into just the time they had been standing there in the midst of the Black Shadows. They had seen Buster Bear for the first time. Mother had told them that he was one whom they must never go too near. Now they were watching their big cousin, Flathorns the Moose. Compared with him, mother seemed small.

"Did you see what I saw?" whispered one of the twins to the other.

"What did you see?" the other whispered back.

"That big black fellow with the big teeth and the big claws was afraid of Cousin Flathorns. He was afraid to fight," the first one replied.

"Isn't he wonderful?" whispered one of the twins to the other.

pered one of the twins to Mother Lightfoot.

Mother made no reply, but in her large soft eyes was much of the same look of admiration that was in the eyes of the twins. Flathorns continued to thrash about in the bushes and grunt as if he were in a real fight. Abruptly he stopped and lifted his head high. His big ears were set forward. He had heard something. He was listening. Mrs. Lightfoot and the twins set their ears and listened. In a moment there came to them a strange sound. It came from far away. It was a voice, but what a voice!

"Mrs. Flathorns is calling. She is lonesome," whispered Mrs. Lightfoot to the twins.

Mrs. Lightfoot was looking up in a tree just a little way off and there was an anxious look in her eyes. The twins looked where she was looking. At first they saw nothing but the dim outlines of the trees. Then first one and then the other saw up in that tree, out on one of the big limbs, two glowing spots. They were eyes. Although they had not been told, and had never before seen those glowing eyes, they knew what they were. They drew a little closer to mother. Those glowing eyes up in that tree had suddenly filled them with fright. Whose eyes were they?

Doble Highly Critical Of Parking Space Lack

Members of Victoria Real Estate Board were told Wednesday that city apartment houses were not being provided with anything like adequate off-street parking facilities.

The warning was given by Robert W. Doble, Victoria traffic superintendent. In an address Wednesday to realtors.

"Most people who live in apartment blocks own cars, yet builders seem to go on the outdated assumption that only one in six persons owns a car," he declared.

"I know what I am talking about because there are 38 apartments and only nine garages constantly on the go from dog to dog—a beagle today...tomorrow a pomeranian—but, as I got older, I felt I should settle down."

"We have a bylaw which forbids overnight parking on the streets. It is not enforced just now but it may be in the future," he said.

FOR SHORT-TIMERS

Mr. Doble also pointed out to realtors that parking meters were not intended for people who were going to park more than one hour.

"During the investigation I made I found that of the 1,000 city meters, 250 of them were regularly filled by people parking two hours or longer," he said.

Mr. Doble said that those who tried to evade the law were not "diddling" the police, but themselves, because loss of parking facilities for those doing business in the city meant that fewer people would come into the city to do their shopping and business.

"If you want some idea of Victoria's parking problem, here are some figures," he said. "There are 32,000 vehicles registered in the Victoria area. These travel on an average of 4,000 miles a week. If you estimate that each vehicle parks once every two miles, you get a close idea of the situation confronting us."

NORTHERN HEAT

Dawson in the Yukon Territory, where the coldest month averages far below zero, has recorded a maximum temperature of 95 degrees.

Business Building Wardens Required

Victoria real estate firms who handle business blocks of more than one story are being asked by the Real Estate Board of Victoria to suggest names of persons who would be suitable to act as civil defense wardens in those premises.

H. C. Holmes, who headed a board committee, reported that Leonard Hatcher, civil defense coordinator, has asked the board for its assistance in contacting about 30 persons who would assume this responsibility and agree to take a course which the co-ordinator would arrange.

KILL HUGE CROCODILE

DARWIN, Australia (Reuters)—Cattlemen have killed a monster crocodile that for years had terrorized the Wickham River area, 400 miles southeast of here. Nearly 25 feet long and six feet around, it had killed several horses by grabbing their noses at the riverbank and hauling them in.

Photographers Pick Composite Beauty

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22 (UP)—The most beautiful woman in America is not a single female but a composite of 13 lovely ladies, the National Portrait Photographers' Association decided today.

The shutter-clickers selected Joan Crawford's legs and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur's smile.

Rita Hayworth's excitement is "embodied in the flame of her hair," the photographers decided, and skater Barbara Ann Scott has a mouth that is "teasingly provocative."

The outstanding bosom, a subject of much controversy in Hollywood, belongs to comedyenne Marie Wilson, said the photographers. The association selected Dinah Shore's "temptingly seductive waistline" and tennis star Nancy Chaffee's "perfectly formed" thighs and arms.

Other selections were: Opera star Rise Stevens' eyes; Mrs. Earl Warren's hands; Marilyn Maxwell's shoulders; Mrs. Edgar Bergen's nose; television producer Caroline Burke's forehead; and Esther Williams' back was chosen because it "portrays power as well as femininity."

SUBMARINE SUCCOR
At the height of its siege in the Second World War the island of Malta was supplied to a large extent by submarines.

Although objecting to her part Gloria Swanson has decided to remain in the cast of "Nina," French play headed for a Broadway showing.

Miss Swanson Dislikes Part In French Play

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22 (AP)—Gloria Swanson says she will continue to play in the Broadway bound production of "Nina," despite dissatisfaction with her part.

The actress let that be known Wednesday after it was reported she intended to leave the show. "Nina" is due to open in New York Dec. 3.

Miss Swanson admitted she had tried to leave the production earlier but added: "People have bought tickets for the show and I don't want to disappoint them."

The fault, Miss Swanson said, lies with the translation of the French play.

She said she wanted to get some "fresh minds in to do the play" or perhaps keep it on the road a little longer to refine it.

But producer John C. Wilson said the play will go to Broadway as scheduled and Miss Swanson is staying in the cast.

Mount Doug Ties Esquimalt

Esquimalt High clinched first-place position in the Inter-High Senior B Rugby League Wednesday when they fought to 3-3 standstill against Mount Douglas.

Esquimalt held a 3-0 edge over Mount Douglas until the dying moments of the contest, when Lambrick fell on a loose ball in the Esquimalt end zone.

Esquimalt's try was scored by Laurie Dadds in the opening minutes of play.

Robinson To Seek Pay Boost

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP) Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger flashy second baseman, says he'll ask for a substantial raise in 1952.

He would not disclose to an interviewer yesterday how much he wants, but it is believed he will hold out for at least $50,000.

He was paid $35,000 this year and last.

Robinson, 32, figures he has "at least two more years of major league baseball left in my system."

Victoria local of the International Union of Operating Engineers (A.F.L.) will meet tonight to consider affiliating directly to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Such affiliation will be recommended to the membership by the local's executive.

Until recently, the local was affiliated to the congress through its international. Recently, however, the international was suspended by the congress for failure to pay per capita dues.

The congress subsequently invited all 25 Canadian locals in the international to link with it directly. Four have done so to date.

Gene Kelly Says 'Snobism' Robs Musicals Of Due Credit

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20 (AP)—Gene Kelly today attacked "snobism," which he said kept some musicals and their stars from being given academy awards.

The issue arose when I suggested that Kelly and his latest picture might be up for Oscars next March. The actor-dancer-director said he doubted it.

"There is a strange sort of reasoning in Hollywood that musicals are less worthy of academy consideration than dramas," he remarked. "It is a form of snobism, the same sort that perpetuates the idea that drama is more deserving of awards than comedy. But actually the kind of thing that Groucho Marx and Red Skelton do is 10 times as hard as straight drama."

NO FAVORS

"No, I don't argue that musicals should be given a special category in academy voting. I think musicals can and should stand on their own merit in competition with straight pictures. And I think perhaps next year or at least within 10 years, the movie musical will have progressed so far the academy voters will not be able to overlook it."

"The same thing is true on the stage," he said. "The legitimate drama has stood still for about 20 years, while musicals produce the really exciting things in the theatre. Shows like 'Pal Joey,' 'Oklahoma' and 'Carousel' are worlds apart from the operettas of the past.

"The culmination is in 'South Pacific,' which I think is the greatest show I have ever seen."

The actor feels the movie musical is progressing in the same direction.

IN-TIME WITH THE TIMES

The daring rescue of Capt. Ed. La Fave, shot down near Wonsan, Korea, will be related on the Marine Corps Show Thursday on KOMO at 6:30. A member of the U.S. Marine Corps' "Flying Nightmares" squadron, La Fave's plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire after he had sprayed an enemy 30-truck convoy with napalm bombs, destroying eight vehicles. La Fave hid overnight in a rice paddy, dodging Communist searchers, and was rescued next day.

The Marine Corps Show will also feature Blue Barron's Orchestra from the Hollywood Palladium. Radio times and programs are furnished by stations and networks and are subject to last minute changes. The Times assumes no responsibility for inaccurate listings.

Joan Lowndes of Vancouver, who speaks English about 99 per cent of the time, showed an aptitude for the French language at a very early age. By the time she reached university level she was able to specialize in the language at U.B.C. and take post-graduate work at the Sorbonne.

Her facility with French has brought her a fair amount of free-lance commissions. Her short reports are heard frequently on La Revue de l'Actualite, the Quebec equivalent of CBC News Roundup. Frettiest compliment Joan has had to date came the other day from a business man in Quebec City. An attractive pamphlet urged her, for the sum of one dollar, to enroll in a correspondence course which would give her "Rapid Progress to Smart English."

Encourage Britons Coming To Canada, House Urged

Member Would Have Whole U.K. Communities Moving Out To Western Canada To Settle

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP)—The Canadian government was urged Wednesday to encourage communities of British people to migrate to Canada. George Murray, 62-year-old Liberal member from Cariboo in British Columbia, told the Commons that Canada's population must be increased and resources developed, if it is to be defended successfully.

"We should encourage not only individuals and families, but whole communities of Britain to migrate to western Canada and to share in the rich resources available there," said Mr. Murray.

He spoke after Joseph Noseworthy (C.C.F., York South, Ont.) asked the government to overhaul anti-inflation policies lest they plunge Canada into the depression. The policies, he said, may cure inflation at a price the people can not afford to pay—the depressing disease of unemployment.

The two members spoke in continued debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

At the House opening, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, protested the announcement in Rotterdam Wednesday by Defense Minister Claxton that Canada will foot the bill of approximately $100,000,000 for the building of four or five air-dromes in western Europe. Such announcements should be made in parliament.

Cheap Immigrant Labor Feared Snatching Jobs

Concern that European immigrants are being put to work at low rates of pay and are doing Canadian workers out of jobs was expressed by a number of different union representatives at a meeting Wednesday night of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

"Some delegates displayed bitter resentment towards the immigrants themselves, though most directed their complaint against the federal government for its handling of the immigration scheme, and the immigration department which is finding the immigrants jobs."

Harold Thayer, of the Machinists' Union, stood up for the immigrants against their critics. He said most of them came from countries where the trade union movement was a militant force.

"These people will be a real asset to organized labor in Canada," he declared.

Ernest Oliver, president of the Victoria local of the Carpenters' Union, told the meeting: "We can't use them even if they are good men. Right now, we can't find enough employment for our own members."

Oliver revealed that between 90 and 100 members of the carpenters' local were out of work here. Yet, he said, immigrant "displaced persons" were employed where formerly carpenters worked, receiving a much lower rate of pay.

"I've talked to some of them," he said. "And the whole trouble is that you can't make yourself understood because they can't even speak English."

Oliver warned that Victoria might shortly have a great number of D.P.'s.

The federal government, he said, had assigned great numbers of immigrants to the prairies where many were not satisfied to remain.

"They'll all move out from the prairies now it's getting cold. Whether they speak good English or not, they've heard about the coast and the weather here. They'll all arrive here broke," he said.

Hergesheimer Paces Packers

Phil Hergesheimer, the talented playing coach with the difficult name, led the way with three goals last night as Kelowna Packers handed Kamloops Elks their first defeat on home ice.

Elks were sailing along with what seemed to be a comfortable 3-1 lead when Packers broke loose for five goals in the last period to wrap up the Okanagan Senior Hockey League game 6-3.

Nelson Maple Leafs outskated Vernon Canadians to register a decisive 5-1 victory in a senior interleague game.

Charges Police Failed To Tell Of Son's Death

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP)—A father charged here Wednesday that his son had been cremated before the family was notified of his death.

The father, William C. Down of suburban Burnaby, declared before Mayor Fred Hume that the police had been guilty of "gross negligence" in their failure to notify him of the death of his son.

The son, 27-year-old David Courtenay Down, died in a gas-filled room in a downtown rooming house June 13. The door of the room was sealed with clothing and it was locked.

The senior Down told the mayor he did not know of his son's death until June 29 when he received a letter advising him to pick up the young man's personal effects at the office of the official administrator.

Young Down disappeared from his home several days before he was found dead. He had registered at the rooming house as "David Courtenay."

The father told the mayor that the police had ample means by which to identify the body and notify the family. There were identification cards, club membership cards and the family telephone number of papers in the clothing.

Police reported they had found one telephone number. They had called several times but got no answer.

The death certificate listed Down as without next-of-kin.

Mayor Fred Hume has called for a full explanation from police on the case.

CITY PROBING MARIJUANA PEDDLING RUMOR

Basketball Fixers Fixed

Judge Saul Streit of New York City clamped down on three basketball stars and "fixer" Salvatore Solazzo by handing out jail terms for involvement in the hoop scandal last year. Chatting outside courthouse are, left to right, Richard Fuertado, Sherman White and Harvey Schaff. White received a one-year term, Schaff six months and Fuertado suspended sentence. Solazzo got eight to 16 years.

Navy's Imposter Faces Inquiry By Immigration Officials Here

Immigration authorities will have a decision on Ferdinand Waldo Demara, Jr. within four days.

John Dorman, immigration inspector, said today a preliminary inquiry has been held, but that the full-fledged session on the bizarre case of the pseudo-surgeon who won acclaim for his operating table feats in the Korean war zone will be held later.

"A good many statements will have to be confirmed," he said. "There will be a little delay until that is done."

It is believed the only aspect of the case to be considered will be the legality of Demara's entry into Canada.

According to evidence Demara joined the R.C.N. with documents belonging to Dr. Joseph Cyr of Grand Falls, N.B., and served as "Surgeon-Lieut. Cyr" aboard H.M.C.S. Cayuga.

Demara was not "dismissed" from the navy. He faced no court martial. He was "released" for misconduct; in naval parlance, "for fraudulent entry."

In such a case the release does not carry the stigma of "dismissal with disgrace" which, in serious crimes, is affixed to discharge papers.

Meanwhile, Demara is being detained at the Immigration Department office at the Outer Wharf. His request for "no interviews or photographs" is being respected rigorously.

He was visited for 20 minutes today by Lieut. Wilfred Pemberton, R.C.N. lieutenant-at-arms, or "chief of police."

Dorman said a three-man board, with himself as chairman, will render the decision on Demara.

"It will be final as far as the Immigration Department is concerned," he said, "but naturally Demara will have the right of appeal to the Minister of Justice like anyone else in the same circumstances."

The Demara episode opened a good-natured war between naval authorities and the press. Demara was whisked into Naden Barracks some days ago, successfully dodging reporters and photographers.

Wednesday, when newsmen heard he would be dismissed from the barracks in the afternoon, they lurked in numbers at both gates to the establishment to catch sight of the controversial "doctor."

When he turned up at the immigration office in the late afternoon reporters were sure there had been "hanky-panky" used to get him out of naval barracks unseen, but navy men said he was driven through a gate in the same staff car that dropped him at the office.

The jog-trot existence of the immigration office which has been conducting its business without fanfare for some years, has suddenly been shaken up.

"We are getting telephone calls every few minutes from all across Canada, and right up to midnight," the inspector said today. "The pressure is terrific."

One gap was blasted early today in the retaining wall near this stricken provincial capital.

Two other blasting were scheduled later today.

Many dihard villagers oppose the dike-breaking—certain to loose waters at their own doorsteps. Some refused to budge from their homes.

In the southern half of the Po basin, in Reggio Emilia province, an unknown assailant shot and killed a rescue worker. Police believed the killer was fighting to stay in his home.

B.C. POPULATION ZOOMS 40 PER CENT

Vancouver Island Census Shows 41% Rise As Numbers Hike From 150,407 To 213,013

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—British Columbia's population has increased to 1,153,059 from 817,861 in the last 10 years, according to a preliminary report on the decennial census made public today.

The Bureau of Statistics said the new population total is subject to revision to include persons not reached when the first census returns were closed. Final figures are to be announced later.

Biggest single increase was shown in the Vancouver area, with the population of Greater Vancouver jumping to 524,399 from 377,437. The new population of Vancouver City is 340,272, against 283,353 in 1941.

The census figures for incorporated municipalities were made public by the Bureau of Statistics in earlier releases.

Here are the British Columbia figures by the 10 census divisions with 1941 figures bracketed:

No. 1 (Upper Columbia and Kootenay Rivers and Elk and Flathead River districts), 27,456 (21,345).

No. 2 (North and South Columbia Rivers, Kootenay and Slocan Lakes), 59,501 (48,266).

No. 3 (Upper Okanagan and Shuswap, Kettle River), 77,266 (54,603).

No. 4 (Lower Fraser Valley, Vancouver-Howe Sound), 641,644 (449,376).

No. 5 (Vancouver Island), 213,013 (150,407).

No. 6 (North Thompson, Shuswap, South Chilcotin, Lillooet), 41,368 (30,710).

No. 7 (Bella Coola, Knight Inlet, Powell River), 18,136 (14,344).

No. 8 (Nechako-Fraser-Panorpa, North Chilcotin, Cariboo, Skeena-Bulkley), 39,851 (25,276).

No. 9 (Alton Lake, Stikine, Skeena Coast), 20,646 (18,051).

No. 10 (Liard, Beaton River, Kiskatinaw River), 14,178 (8,481).

Closing Prices

Stock prices made several half-hearted rally attempts this afternoon on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, but there was little volume.

Silvan gained 2 cents at 1.40, Estella 4 cents at 1.25 and Indian 1/2 cent at 2 1/2. Western Uranium was 3.50, and Kootenay Belle .99.

Among oils, Federated at 7.55, Del Rio at 1.68, Mercury at .22 and Charter at 1.23 were all fractionally better, but Britannia slipped back to 5.30.

Churchill Leaves U.K. Dec. 29

LONDON, Nov. 22 (Reuters).—Prime Minister Churchill will leave Dec. 29 on his trip to North America where he will visit Washington and Ottawa, it was announced tonight.

He will take with him three key cabinet ministers: Anthony Eden, foreign secretary; Lord Ismay, commonwealth relations secretary; and Lord Cherwell, his atomic expert.

The announcement did not indicate how long Churchill expects to remain in Washington before leaving for Ottawa for his meeting with Prime Minister St. Laurent.

LAST FOR WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (Reuters).—The Churchill-Truman talks will begin in Washington Jan. 3, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

While the full agenda has not yet been drawn up, it was stated here that the talks at the White House will last at least for a week and in scope will constitute the most important Anglo-American conference since the end of the Second World War in 1945.

Police Seeking Evidence Of Traffic In Schools

City police are investigating repeated reports of the use of marijuana among Victoria school pupils. Although the R.C.M.P. anti-narcotics squad carried out a thorough investigation here only six weeks ago and could find no evidence of marijuana smoking, rumors of the use of the drug persist.

Most recent rumors of the narcotic traffic have triggered a city police investigation, independent of the R.C.M.P.

It is understood neighbor municipalities have conducted inquiries along the same lines.

An unidentified person has appealed to the Victoria Times to try to disclose if the story of marijuana smoking were true.

REPORTS REACH CHIEF

Chief of Police John Blackstock today said reports and rumors had reached him some time ago. He said he had put investigators on the case but thus far they had not been able to uncover anything to prove a basis for fears.

"Investigations are continuing," Chief Blackstock said.

Superintendent C. W. Harvison of the R.C.M.P. reported that his department had received a similar report about six weeks ago.

"We followed up on it but were unable to find anything to substantiate the story," the superintendent said.

"I've got lots of time on my hands these days," said Trustee Walter Jeune (retired) "and if I had heard of any such thing happening in our schools I'd devote all my time to getting to the bottom of it," said Tom L. Christie, secretary of the school board.

"There is no evidence of marijuana being smoked by our pupils... but if such a story is true we would like to get to the bottom of it," said Tom L. Christie, secretary of the school board.
